RUSSIA AGREES TO TALK DISARMAMENT

Legislature To Convene On Turnpike

Dec. 10 Session Limited To Action On Revision of Law

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today called the Ohio legislature into special session Dec. 10 to consider revision of the Ohio turnpike act.

The governor limited his call to the eminent domain provisions of the pact.

The call followed a meeting Thursday with legislative, civic, and business leaders who generally urged a limited special session.

Investment bankers said a change in the law is needed to prevent long delay in building a $300,000,000 toll super-road, 240 miles across Northern Ohio.

Fear Delay

Bankers said they can't sell bonds to finance the turnpike until the Ohio Turnpike Commission can take immediate possession of condemned right-of-way land. The present law requires the commission to settle all court disputes over price before taking the land.

In a statement accompanying his proclamation:

"The turnpike project of Ohio can not go forward in the face of the prospective bond buyers' unwillingness to buy the bonds until the eminent domain provisions of the turnpike law are amended.

"It is my belief that the impasse which has been reached in the development of the turnpike project constitutes an emergency, and for that reason an extraordinary session of the legislature is justified.

"The turnpike, when completed, will constitute a tremendous aid in solving the traffic problems of the people of Ohio.

Releases Funds

"It will be a self-sustaining and self-amortizing 'toll road. The moneys which would be taken out of the normal and general road construction and maintenance funds to provide adequate highway facilities leading from the Pittsburgh to the Detroit and Chicago areas will be freed for use in the development and maintenance of other roads in Ohio."

The special session is scheduled to meet at 1:30 p.m.

Two Escape At Mansfield

MANSFIELD, O., Nov. 30—(INS)—Two trustees of the Mansfield Reformatory literally walked off the job today while working on a farm just outside the reformatory walls.

State highway patrolmen and other law enforcement agents were alerted to watch for Harold C. Jackson, 20, of Delaware County, and Alfred Eugene Smith, 19, of Franklin County.

Jackson was serving one-to-15 years for larceny and breaking and entering and Smith was serving a similar term for burglary and larceny.

Guest Soloists, Ensemble In Yule Program

BY ELAINE BALLINGER

With guest soloists, conductor, and a string ensemble for supplement, the Marion Civic Chorus of 100 voices will present its annual program of "The Messiah," Handel oratorio, Sunday night at Epworth Methodist Church. Ministers of the community will take part in the service. The chorus is composed of many members of church choirs and of other music organizations from throughout the city and county.

Names of the out-of-town soloists are familiar to Marion Messiah audiences from other years.

They are Mrs. Janet Fenholt of Columbus, soprano, and Paul Mattes and Prof. John Bennett Ham of Springfield, tenor and baritone.

Prof. Rexford Keller, head of the department of music at Ohio Wesleyan University at Delaware, is conductor.

Contralto soloist is Mrs. Esther Hale of Marion, president of the Civic Chorus.

The ensemble of violinist, violist and cellist is from Ohio Wesleyan University. Miss Rosaline Manzo is pianist and Mrs. Dorothy Jennings, assistant, and Mrs. Eliza T. Williams is organist.

Ministers taking part in the service will include the Rev. Ashley G. Booth of Central Christian Church, president of the Marion County Ministerial Assn., Dr. V. E. Busler, host pastor, and the Rev. Gambling Tax Deadline Set Tonight

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—Bookies and other professional gamblers in the Cleveland district had to decide today whether to apply for their new federal tax forms, quit their rackets or try to beat the law.

Tonight at midnight is the deadline, and only 22 had applied by the time the Cleveland office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue opened this morning.

People close to the Cleveland police estimate that Cleveland alone has — or had — about 400 bookies and between 1,500 and 2,000 numbers racket "workers."

Of the 22 asking for the forms, only four were Clevelanders — a small time bookie and three numbers men. The rest were from other Ohio communities.

The new law requires that anyone in the wagering business give the government 10 per cent of his "take."

Will Campaign for Delegates

Taft Challenges Stassen's Control In Minnesota

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today challenged former Gov. Harold E. Stassen's control of the Minnesota delegation to the 1952 GOP presidential nominating convention.

Taft, flying to Cincinnati, told a reporter in a telephone interview before taking off that he has authorized Roy E. Dunn, Minnesota national committeeman, to conduct his campaign for delegates in Minnesota.

The Ohioan thus reversed the political field on Stassen, who challenged Taft's control of the Ohio delegation in 1948 and won 9 delegates of the total of 53 assigned to that state in that year. Stassen did not try for all 53. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York won the 1948 nomination, defeating both Taft and Stassen.

Taft said his entry into the contest for Minnesota's delegation does not mean that his name will go on the ballot of the presidential preferential primary there March 18. The preferential primary is a popularity contest in which Stassen, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and others may be entered.

Way of Selection

The winner of this contest does not necessarily get control of the 28-man Minnesota delegation, chosen this way: two delegates are selected by electors in each of the nine congressional districts three delegates-at-large are selected as at large in the primary.

The decision by Taft to seek Minnesota delegates was regarded as his reply to Stassen's proposal that the Ohioan join him in a draft-Eisenhower movement. Although he did not say so publicly, Taft gave every indication that he would have none of such a coalition.

Stassen, now president of the University of Pennsylvania, said at Milwaukee several days ago that if the Republicans could agree on Eisenhower as their 1952 presidential nominee, "we could

Korea Truce May Be Trap, Truman Warns

KEY WEST, Fla., Nov. 30—(AP)—The country has warning from President Truman that Red negotiations for a cease fire in Korea may be no more than a Communist trap.

"We can not," the President asserted, "allow our men to be caught off-balance by the enemy in case we can not reach a satisfactory armistice."

Mr. Truman, meeting with newsmen for the second time since he flew to Key West Nov. 8, told them in blunt terms late yesterday that the fighting will continue in Korea as long as there is a possibility that United Nations forces might be caught off-balance.

"The continued pressure of our forces on the enemy constitutes the strongest incentive for the latter to agree to a just armistice," he said, "Any premature slackening of our effort would cost us more casualties in the long run than need be lost."

Mr. Truman warned, as his press secretary, Joseph Short, did Wednesday, that there has been no cease-fire in Korea and "can be none until an armistice has been signed."

Until United Nations terms are met, he added, there can be no as-

Correspondent Raps Truman Blast at Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—(AP)—Arthur Krock, chief Washington correspondent for the New York Times, said today in his editorial page column that whenever the Truman administration gets confused about major events, it tries to blame the free press.

Krock raised the point in connection with President Truman's complaints yesterday about press reports of a temporary halt of hostilities in Korea.

He wrote:

"Whenever this administration falls into a state of confusion and somewhat of dismay, and when that condition has become a matter of public knowledge and concern, an unusual barrage of official denials of unwelcome news is launched against the pree press in a manner to persuade the peo-

Winnie Ruth Judd Eludes Bloodhounds

Flees Arizona State Hospital 4th Time; Uses Ladder of Rags

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 30—(AP)—Crafty Winnie Ruth Judd, notorious trunk murderess of 20 years ago, broke out of the state hospital for the insane last night for the fourth time, and today eluded searchers.

She pried through a screen window, slipped down a ladder fashioned from rags, yarn and an electric iron cord, and vanished into the chill night.

Escape of the greying red-haired killer set off a great search through the city. Bloodhounds failed to pick up her trail.

In 1931, Mrs. Judd shot two girl friends to death and shipped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles in a trunk and a suitcase. She was convicted of murder and was sentenced to hang. At almost the last moment she was found insane and was committed to the asylum here.

Now, 48, Mrs. Judd has been in the hospital 18 years.

Just before her escape about 10:30 p.m. she had been visiting in the room of her 84-year-old mother, Mrs. Carrie B. McKinnell, also a patient in the hospital. Earlier Mrs. Judd had attended a western movie shown for the inmates.

Took Weeks

Hospital attendants said it must have taken her weeks to weave the ladder of yarn, rags and part of a heavy ironing cord. They said she used a screw driver and pliers to open the heavy window screen, and that they must have been smuggled to her.

Mrs. Judd tied the ladder to the head of her mother's bed in a room adjoining her own.

Attendants said Mrs. Judd had were found 200 yards, distant.

another patient told her she would be taken away from her mother and put in a criminal ward.

Efforts to convince her there was nothing to the story failed, attendants said.

"Mrs. Judd said she would commit suicide if they tried to take her away from her mother," an attendant said.

"I never dreamed she would leave grandma (as Mrs. McKinnell is known)," she added.

Searchers reported Mrs. Judd apparently went over the west been upset for the last week after gate. Some of her personal effects

Sheriff L. C. Boles put bloodhounds on the trail.

When last seen Mrs. Judd, once a willowy red-haired nurse, was wearing a blue silk dress and a green coat with fur cuffs.

Hospital officials felt that Mrs. Judd, long unaccustomed to the outside, could not have gone far from the institution grounds. Even though they border on the principal east-west highway through the city.

"Tiger Woman"

Winnie Ruth, the "tiger woman" of 20 years ago, had lived in quiet seclusion since her last break from the hospital in 1947.

She had spent her time, as she had in the periods between her escapes, dressing the hair of fellow patients and caring for her aged mother.

On May 11, 1947, she unlocked two doors of the hospital ward and got away.

Then, in contrast to last night,

Down Nine Bombers, One Other

Allies Enjoy Big Day In Air War

SEOUL, KOREA, Nov. 30—(AP)—In the greatest air victory of the Korean war American jet pilots reported they shot down 10 Communist planes, damaged four and probably destroyed another.

Nine of the destroyed planes were bombers, the first to venture en masse across the Yalu River into MIG Alley.

The Fifth Air Force said no Allied planes were lost.

Thirty-one American sabre jets pounded on the flight of 30 Red bombers and their escort of 16 MIG-15 jets. The sabres streaked through the lumbering bombers, swooped up and cut the escorting flight of Red jets in half, then raced down onto the bombers.

The Sabres did it all in one long deadly curve that sent 9 bombers and one MIG tumbling down toward the mouth of the Yalu River.

Three other bombers were reported damaged. All were Russian-type: twin-engine TU-2s and single engine LA-9s. The Red formation had just crossed the Yalu River boundary from Manchuria, apparently on a training flight.

Biggest Yet

The 30-minute battle was the fourth air fight of the day and the biggest of any type—jet or propeller planes—fought in the Korean war. The earlier flights accounted for the probable and the fourth damaged Red.

The four day air battle total mounted to 18 Red jet planes reported destroyed, one probably destroyed and 13 damaged, against one U. S. plane shot down and three damaged.

Earlier the Fifth Air Force had studied films of Wednesday's fight and found one more MIG-15 was shot down than American pilots had reported.

Friday's great battle climaxed a week of increasing Red jet flights into North Korea and an astounding jump in Communist highway traffic to the front lines.

Long Convoys

Long convoys of Red trucks were spotted last night racing toward the quiet forward lines with their lights blazing.

Flare-dropping Allied planes counted at least 9,200 of them, Far East Air Forces (FEAF) reported Friday. The figure is nearly double the previous high of 5,150, and a Fifth Air Force re-count indicated it may be incomplete.

No one guessed at how many more Red trucks might have

Capt. Mooney Presented Silver Star

Marion Officer Wins High Military Honor

The nation's third highest combat decoration, the Silver Star Medal, has been awarded Capt. Harley F. Mooney of Marion for gallantry in Korean combat. This was reported today by headquarters of the Third Infantry Division in Korea.

Capt. Mooney, who now is at home on leave after many months of action in Korea, served as commander of Company A of the Third Division's Seventh Infantry Regiment.

CAPT. HARLEY F. MOONEY

The citation awarded Capt. Mooney sets the date of action as April 23, this year. At that time, he held the rank of a first lieutenant. He received the promotion to the rank of captain Sept. 1.

Capt. Mooney arrived in Marion last Friday, Nov. 23, from Seattle, Wash. Leaving Korea Oct. 27, he landed in the United States on Nov. 21. He is to report Jan. 3 to Ft. Meyer, near Washington, D. C., where he will be stationed with the Honor Guard. Capt. Mooney is the son of Mrs. Ruth Mooney Reed of 918 Uncapher Ave.

Wounded Three Times

While serving in Korea, Capt. Mooney was wounded three times, the first on Dec. 11, 1950, when he suffered wounds in the face and arms from shrapnel, second on March 31, this year, when he was hit in the right arm by small arms fire, and the last time on April 25 when he suffered shrapnel wounds in the right leg.

Capt. Mooney enlisted in the Army on Oct. 30, 1945, and was commissioned just a few days after his 18th birthday, being one of the youngest men ever to be commissioned in the Army. He went into combat in Korea in August, 1950.

Recently, Capt. Mooney was awarded the First Oak Leaf Cluster to the Bronze Star with "V" device for heroism in action, and he has the Purple Heart in recognition of wounds received in combat.

Others Honored

Two other men from this area also have received the Silver Star Medal. A Marion County soldier, Pfc. James O. Mulligan, son of Mrs. Blanche Mulligan of LaRue, was awarded the decoration in May, this year, after braving enemy fire to save the lives of five of his wounded buddies on March 9. Posthumously awarded the Silver Star in June, this year, was First Lt. Morgan Bernell Hansel, a Delaware County native, whose wife, Mrs. Virginia Hansel is of Marion. He was killed in action in North Korea Nov. 4.

Secret Big 4 Parley OK'd By Vishinsky

West Encouraged By Move; Admit Job To Be Tough

PARIS, Nov. 30—(AP)—Russia agreed today to join secret Big Four disarmament talks. The western Big Three said this was an encouraging sign but added it would be a tough job to make any real progress.

Soviet foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky told the U.N. General Assembly's political committee of his country's decision to take part in the talks proposed by Pakistan, Iran and Syria.

U.S. delegate Philip C. Jessup said this was a hopeful development, but commented that the belligerent tone of Vishinsky's acceptance speech indicated the task ahead would be difficult. Similar views were expressed by spokesmen for France and Britain.

The Western Powers had already agreed to the talks in an effort to resolve rival East-West plans for disarming.

Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, General Assembly president, will preside at the four-power meetings which are expected to begin shortly.

Begins With Attack

Vishinsky prefaced his acceptance with a blistering attack on previous speeches by Jessup and others and a castigation of the western disarmament plan.

Vishinsky said the Soviet Union is ready to "continue our efforts and take part in the work of the proposed subcommittee."

He added that he was bewildered by western claims that the Soviet Union wanted a veto in the international arms commission which would supervise disarmament procedures.

Vishinsky declared that deputy premier V. M. Molotov had said on Dec. 14, 1946, that while Russia insists on a veto in the Security Council, she would not do so in the arms commission.

This was old stuff to western diplomats, who have pointed out repeatedly that since the Soviet Union demands that the commission be under the Security Council, it amounts to the same thing as having a veto in the commission. Any recommendation by the commission to the council would be subject to the veto there.

Likened to Trinity

Vishinsky likened the position of the western Big Three to the "trinity—one in three." The Holy Trinity is the Christian doctrine of God in the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost.

He expressed the conviction that the amendments proposed to the western plan by the Soviet Union would "facilitate and assure solution of the task before us."

Spokesmen for the western Big Three already have denounced these amendments as an attempt to cut the heart out of the plan and twist it into a renewed version of old Russian proposals.

It thus appeared likely that the talks would end in deadlock and the whole problem be thrown back to the full committee.

Agreement by the Big Four to try secret diplomacy, instead of the spotlight of the assembly rostrum, means that the political committee will suspend its disarmament discussion for a week or ten days to await results. The West, recalling previous protracted but fruitless sessions with the Russians, is expected to insist that such a limit be placed on this round.

Key to Plan

The key to the western disarmament plan is step-by-step disclosure of weapons — including atomic bombs—under a foolproof international system of verification to make sure all powers are telling the truth.

Sons in Crew For Crestline Dad's Last Run

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Nov. 30—Harry A. Taylor, 66, of Crestline, retiring Saturday after 42 years as a conductor for the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., will make his last round trip for the railroad tonight with four sons, all railroad men, as crew members.

The Taylor family will man the eastbound Pennsylvania Limited, scheduled to leave Fort Wayne, Ind., at 8:51 tonight and arrive in Crestline at 11:59 p.m. They will return to Fort Wayne on the Broadway Limited, which will leave Crestline at 5:24 a. m. Saturday. The occasion will probably mark the first time in railroad history that members of one family have made up the entire crew of a passenger train.

Composing the crew, in addition to Conductor Taylor, will be his sons, Ray R. Taylor as engineer, William H. Taylor as fireman, Herman N. Taylor as brakeman, and James A. Taylor as flagman. Another son, Ronald N. Taylor, an engineman, will be present in Fort Wayne when the train leaves.

Green Camp Youth Suffers Bad Cut

David Deeds, Green Camp High School senior, suffered a deep cut in his back when he fell through a glass in a door of his father's grocery store in Green Camp about 9 o'clock last night. The youth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Deeds of Green Camp, was helping his father put up Christmas decorations when he slipped and crashed through the door.

He was taken to the Marion City Hospital by his father, where 15 stitches were required to close the wound. He was later released. Deeds is a member of the high school basketball team.

FROM THE CLERK of Local Board 32, Pampa, Tex "You said recently that if a man joined an organized reserve or National Guard unit between Feb. 1 and July 1, 1951, he would be classified 1-D This is not according to regulations If a man joined a unit between those dates his induction will merely be postponed in class 1-A (F) for the rest of his enlistment, or for one year or until he reaches age 26 years, 0 months, whichever is the shortest. Organized reservists entitled to the 1-D deferment are those who joined an organized reserve unit (1) prior to age 18½ or (2) prior to Feb. 1, 1951, or (3) prior to June 25, 1950 if they applied for active duty and the application was denied

No need to reapply. The VA says it will review your previous application automatically if you just ask them to

The new law says a vet may get vocational rehabilitation training if.

From R S. P. of Fitchburg, Mass 'Is there any way a divorced wife of a disabled veteran can claim alimony on his disability compensation?"

No The VA says a divorced wife is not entitled to compensation. Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CHICAGO

SOMETHING stinks in the Chicago stockyards and it isn't the cattle—it's the comrades. Operating inside the nation's beef basket is a band of politicalized union chiefs who sneeringly smear the FBI. They use the jargon of bitterly anti-U. S. Cominform publications and Soviet radio broadcasts. They refuse to work with our Federals in tracking down fugitives. And they boast about it.

Victor Riesel

Yet through their hands passes much of the meat which winds up on your dining room table.

It's fantastic, at this moment in world affairs, that a local union should blatantly blast the FBI's search for a bail jumper. But that's exactly what occurred when the scientific men of the Bureau asked this local for cooperation.

The government has, for some time now, been searching for the seven men who jumped bail with Gus (Dynamite Stick) Hall, American Communist party boss. One of the seven is the 37-year-old Oseejus Sarfstoinas, a Lithuanian who took the name of Sidney Steinberg, and later Sid Stein, when he began working undercover for the Communist Party.

Stein, in hiding, is considered doubly dangerous because he is believed to be directing the underground Communist party labor party network which has cells inside many a strategic weapons center. Being agile-minded young men, whom even Sherlock Holmes would envy, the FBI agents soon learned that not too long ago after Oseejus Sarfstoinas changed his name back in 1930, he changed his occupation—and became a butcher and meat cutter.

KNOWING THEY CAN always count on the cooperation of most American labor leaders, the FBI men thought that a good place to look for the fugitive after he jumped bail was in the meat industry—and so dispatched to 269 CIO local unions something called an "identification order".

This was adorned with the grisly features of the fugitive, his fingerprints, description and a message saying "Wanted." In it was a form letter explaining why the Packinghouse Union had been circularized. After all, if hacking is Stein's professional, as well as political, occupation, he might look for a butcher's job somewhere, and the other unionists might recognize him.

Then leaders and members of Packinghouse Union, Local 347, not only called a session to reject such cooperation—but voted to attack the governmental agency.

IT REFUSED TO dishonor its bulletin board, the local said, in effect. And then, adding insult to injury, it dispatched a note to the FBI director denouncing him. All of which was picked up by the Daily Worker for use by the Moscow radio—the neatest double play this side of the ball season.

Now there's no denying this local union's political right to refuse to cooperate with the government in the tracking down of a man who is the Communist party's undercover labor chief. But since this group is one of the few left wing locals which still carries the CIO label and therefore, in the public mind, appears to speak for CIO members, it seems to me it has run out of its moral rights.

From Mike Mann, peppery CIO regional director in Chicago, I get word that this local "always has been the backbone of pro-Communist activity in this area." From Pat Gorman, a national leader of the AFL meatworkers, who takes no second money himself in the fight for civil liberties, comes similar word—and the added assurance that he would be glad to cooperate in the apprehension of "men who would, through their own conspiracies, deprive labor and others of civil liberties."

YET BEFORE OUR federal labor laws, the pro-Commies enjoy the same privileges, the same right to speak for working people, as do those who pledge their loyalties to a democratic ideal.

If not legally wrong, there is something morally wrong in the equal treatment of these two forces. The decent democratic labor leaders and the band which sneers at enforcement agencies, hero-worships fugitives and is hailed as "patriotic" by the Daily Worker, the newspaper of the American section of the Cominform, are to me hardly forces to be respected equally by the public or the law.

That's the only stockyard odor I can't tolerate.

Old Beliefs About Birthmarks

There are still many false impressions and ideas about birthmarks. For example, some people think that removing a birthmark may lead to insanity or may cause the formation of a cancer later in life.

Many believe that if a pregnant woman has some emotional upset, such as fear or shock, it can lead to birthmarks on her baby. There is, of course, no scientific basis for these beliefs. They are just not true.

There are various types of birthmarks, and they may be present anywhere on the body. The most common type is the ordinary pigmented mole, which is a slightly raised, brownish area of skin. Another frequent type is one which contains some hair along with the pigmented skin.

Sometimes the birthmark has a wart-like appearance. Then there are blood vessel or vascular birthmarks, the most common kind being the portwine mark. These are made up of very small blood vessels and usually lie even with the surface of the skin. Birthmarks may even be found on the eyeball, but these are rare.

The method of treatment for the various types of birthmarks varies. In some cases, carbon dioxide snow is placed against the birthmark for from 20 to 50 seconds. Usually, this treatment develops a blister which finally forms a crust and then leaves a white spot.

Certain other types or birthmarks are best treated by the electric needle. In all cases, however, the treatment must be carried out under the careful supervision of a physician.

S. T.: Why is a person suffering from gout not permitted to drink alcoholic beverages?

Answer: Wide experience has shown that the consumption of alcoholic beverages sometimes causes sudden and acute attacks of gout, and may intensify the symptoms. For this reason, it is inadvisable for a person suffering from gout to drink any alcoholic beverages.

Burglar Alarm Traps Inventor

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Jacque P. Whaumbush, 45, a night watchman for several apartment houses, invented a burglar alarm that helped catch a burglar and landed the inventor in jail.

Whaumbush set up his burglar alarm in one of the apartments and it worked perfectly when someone broke a window and entered the building. The man was captured but that's not the end.

At a police roll call one of the policemen called to arrest the suspect recognized the inventor's name in the list of those wanted for several traffic violations.

The officer sped to Whaumbush's home and arrested him.

A new air service is expected to be operating soon between New Zealand and Tahiti. It will follow a route by way of Western Samoa and the Cook Islands.

Big City Learns

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

THE big city is patting itself on the back for the way it behaved during its first A-bomb alert.

At the screaming of the first air raid siren, the streets emptied magically. The people took to the nearest bomb shelters.

To get a New Yorker to do anything expected of him is quite an achievement, as he is by nature one of the most independent-minded creatures on earth, suspicious of any kind of "regimentation."

Of course, some did show an unfortunate tendency to cluster at skyscraper windows to watch the show, but that is also a characteristic of New Yorkers. They don't like to miss anything.

Hal Boyle

But generally they did quickly and calmly what the civil defense organization had instructed them to do as an indication of how they would react had the emergency been real. They are learning "the pattern of survival," the lesson all must learn who live in these times.

ALTHOUGH THEY JOKED about the situation, they remained in the shelters until the all-clear sounded.

One interesting sidelight: The employes of Tass, the official Soviet news agency, paid no attention to the demonstration. They kept right on sending dispatches to Moscow.

In an actual air raid it is hard to tell how people will react to it. Sometimes a population under steady bombardment becomes indifferent or phlegmatic to danger. Many adopt a fatalistic attitude.

During the early days of the great air raids on London a number became blinded for life as a result of curiosity. Windows through which they had been watching the spectacle suddenly were blasted, filling their faces with glass shards. It became a pastime with some to go up on rooftops to view the city at night, ringed with huge fires and reverberating with explosions.

SOME PEOPLE, suffering from claustrophobia, never were able to stand the mole-like existence in the shelters. Others, including the lonely, actually seemed to enjoy the companionship of the deep shelters in the "underground"—the London subway. They would go to sleep there whether there was an air raid or not. Merely for the company.

A substantial portion of the citizenry, adopting the policy that "If a bomb has your name on it it will find you," remained cheerfully a-bed during the nightly attacks. They figured it was about as pleasant a place to die as any.

On visits back to London from the front during the last war that is what I generally did. The luxury of lying between clean sheets in a soft bed meant more than the peril from possible death overhead. The chances are always in your favor during an air raid.

After the Allies began their own tremendous bombardment of Berlin, the populace here came in time to adopt the same philosophy. One German lady told a friend of mine after the war:

"During your raids I used to sit in a warm bath sipping champagne. If I had to go, I wanted to go out as comfortably as possible."

Revise The List

By Inez Robb

ONCE more the New York Dress Institute has sent me a ballot in the annual Ten Best Dressed Women sweepstakes. And once more my vote is for sale in exchange for two Mainbocher boxtops and $100 in cash.

Although how anyone in possession of two Mainbocher boxtops could also have $100 in cash is a mystery to me. Come to think of it, I will settle for just the hundred bucks in bold bucks.

The 1951 ballot contains the names of 120 candidates, whose selection for the clothes hall of fame eludes me as I have never yet been asked to vote in the primaries.

Inez Robb

But I suspect that some of the nominees are chosen not so much because their clothes but their names make news. I yield to no one in my general respect and high regard for Mrs. Alben (Veep) Barkley, Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey, Mrs. Douglas MacArthur, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Miss Margaret Truman.

But if these ladies are among the world's 120 best dressed women, then I am going home and set fire to my other dress.

I am surprised, in view of her husband's political potentialities, that Mamie Eisenhower failed to make the list. This is a grave oversight, and if Mrs. Eisenhower cares to contest the election, I shall be happy to serve as a witness.

As for Princess Elizabeth, another nominee, she certainly should receive the support of the electorate as the most dressed, especially at night when she is gussied up in all those Kilcg diamonds.

However, I have a few nominees of my own.

My first nominee is Mrs. Gus Hinkle Smith of Sioux City, who recently made a chic cocktail ensemble for herself from her husband's old tuxedo.

"His prancing days are over," Mrs. Smith said in reference to Gus, "and anyway a woman with five kids to feed these days can't go throwing money around the stores like it was hay. But with a little ingenuity a woman can still be well dressed."

Mrs. Smith had only one thing to say: "there oughta be a law!"

My second nominee is Mrs. Bertha Frome, recognized fashion plate of Prairie, Nebr. Mrs. Frome, who is rapidly reviving interest in the Mother Hubbard, said:

"Shucks, any woman can be as well dressed as me. If she's willing to save the flour sacks and invest in a package of dye from time to time, I always say 'know your type!' Now me, I'm the Mother Hubbard type and I stick to it, especially in hot weather."

Miss Prue Quiller, debutante of Happy Hollow, Tenn., is my third nominee.

Prue, who already takes a healthy interest in running the family still, says it is no problem to be a snappy dresser.

"I jes get aholt of paw's shirt in the morning 'fore he does," she explained, "and latch onto a pair of my brother Leroy's overalls and I'm dressed for the day, be it work or play.

"On the mornings when paw gits to his shirt first, maw loans me her fascinator and I make out."

My fourth nominee is Mrs. Richard Strick of Oswego, Me.,

Ask Files On Attempted Tax "Fix"

House Committee Resumes Inquiry Into Caudle Activities

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP) House tax investigators asked the Justice Department today for files dealing with a "fix" purportedly tried in a tax case involving two New Yorkers ultimately convicted of tax fraud.

As a House ways and means subcommittee resumed its inquiry into the activities of T. Lamar Caudle, ousted assistant attorney general and former chief tax prosecutor, Chairman King (D-Calif) declared there was "apparently irregular activity on the part of the Department of Justice."

His assertion came last night after testimony that Caudle received $5,000 as a commission on the sale of an airplane to a private investigator working for the two New Yorkers.

Says Letters Hint of "Fix"

Committee Counsel Adrian W. Dewind said he understood there were a number of "anonymous letters" in the files of the Justice Department alleging that a tax case against Samuel Aarons and Jacob Freidus of New York "was to be fixed."

King said the department would be asked to supply the documents to the subcommittee.

The committee has been questioning Caudle all week on his activities as head of the department tax division. Caudle was fired two weeks ago by President Truman for "outside activities" deemed incompatible with his office.

At the center of the Aarons-Freidus testimony was a letter sent to U.S. Attorney Irving Saypol of New York a few days before Aarons and Freidus went to trial in October, 1950. Saypol could not be reached for comment.

Signed by Caudle Aide

The letter, signed by Turner L. Smith, then Caudle's top aide, said that if a medical report on Aarons' health had been presented to the Justice Department before the case went to the U.S. attorney, the report would have caused the Justice Department to refuse to prosecute Aarons.

According to a memorandum from a Bureau of Internal Revenue agent, the letter was dispatched after Caudle and Charles Oilphant, chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, agreed that Aarons "should not be prosecuted" because of the medical findings.

But neither Caudle nor Oilphant could remember their reported agreement or the letter when asked by the committee. Nor could Caudle's former aides in the Justice Department, when called in turn, recollect the letter or who ordered it. The agent, Richard C. Schwartz, has not yet testified.

King announced when yesterday's hearings ended that he was calling to Attorney General McGrath's attention "that here is an important case with apparently irregular activity on the part of the Justice Department."

He said the letter had been written only a year ago, yet "three important Justice officials involved state they have no recollection of the matter."

"One states he would not have acted as he did but for instructions given to him by one of the other two. The chief counsel of the Bureau of Internal Revenue is involved, and he also states he has no recollection.

"There is a $5,000 payment to one of the Justice officials—paid under circumstances apparently involving a defendant in the criminal proceedings — the acceptance of which payment the attorney general approved."

The officials to whom King referred where Smith and Meyer Rothwacks, chief of the criminal section of the tax division which Caudle formerly headed.

Freidus and Aaron, the defendants in the case, were subsequently convicted and sentenced to prison terms. Aaron was fined $30,000 and given two years imprisonment. Freidus was sentenced to four years.

Capt. Mooney

Silver Star award given Capt. Mooney declares:

"On April 23, 1951, near Chogan-ni, Korea, Captain Mooney's company was engaged in an assault operation with the mission of extracting the Belgian Battalion which had been cut off and separated from the 29th Independent British Brigade.

"After Company A had crossed the line of departure, Captain Mooney, as commanding officer, sent one of his platoons to clear a small hill mass to his right front, but as the platoon moved toward the crest of the hill it was attacked without warning by a numerically superior enemy force.

Platoon Pinned Down

"The incoming enemy fire was so intense that the platoon was forced to disperse and seek cover, becoming pinned down and unable to maintain the advance. Realizing the desperate nature of the situation, Capt. Mooney deliberately left a position of cover and exposed himself to withering fire, to personally lead a machine gun squad forward.

"Moving well in front of his own lines, he remained in his isolated and hazardous position, directing a heavy and effective volume of fire against the foe even though the enemy had observed movement to the front and immediately shifted the full power of their fire against his force.

"Captain Mooney's daring actions caused the enemy to lift its fire from the pinned down platoon and enabled it to continue the assault, finally destroying the enemy forces and relieving the hard-pressed Belgian Battalion."

Dunkirk Garage Operator Cited

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 30—(AP)—Grand jury action was ordered by Federal Judge Frank L. Kloeb here today for the operator of a garage at Dunkirk, O., and two employes charged with violation of the Dyer Act and conspiracy.

Marlon Davis, 40, who operates a Dunkirk garage and used car lot; Robert H. Vincent, 30, Dunkirk, and Richard L. Thompson, 27, Vanlue, O., refused to sign a bill of information and entered no plea in court.

Gerald P. Openlander, assistant U.S. attorney, charged that Davis stole a car in Perrsbury on Oct. 23. Vincent and Thompson were arrested in Lexington, Ky., on Oct. 24 when they attempted to sell the car, Openlander said.

Two-Hour Parking Set Up on Streets Near Huber Plant

Signs limiting parking on N. Greenwood St. and E. George St. near the Huber Manufacturing Co. are being erected, Safety Service Director Ralph Forrest reported today.

Two hour parking will be permitted from E. Center St. to George St. on N. Greenwood St. and on the north side of George St. to the second alley east of Greenwood St., he said. This is the first time parking has been limited in this area.

The two-hour limit on parking had been requested by residents of the area who complained that shop workers monopolized the parking space in front of their homes, Forrest said.

ple that the press is deliberately giving a lying account of the government.

"The Truman administration is in this plight today, its lack of coordination having reached alarming proportions and its official record showing a growing stain of corruption. Accordingly, its denials have steadily become more short and ugly. In their language there is no recognition of the fact that, if the news reports contained error, it was not the error of the press but of those invested with political responsibility by the administration. Yet the current form of denial has left the implication that reporters rush into print with the flimsiest factual evidence and are willing or careless common carriers of the most transparent fakes, 'planted' by persons with obviously ulterior motives.

"The latest instance was the reception here and in Key West of an Associated Press dispatch that was passed by the military censor yesterday at Seoul.

"After the negotiators of an armistice in Korea agreed on the ultimate dividing line between the opposing forces, to become effective if an armistice had been signed within thirty days, the guns of our ground forces fell silent. Several officers told the A. P. reporter, John Randolph, that this was in obedience to an order from high authorities. The military ones are the chiefs of staff at the Pentagon here and General Ridgway in Tokyo. The superior one, since such an order must have political sanction, is the President. Based soundly on the information he was given, the reporter sent the following:

"'Orders from the highest sources, possibly from the White House itself, brought the ground fighting to a complete, if temporary, halt Wednesday.'"

Youth in Auto Chase Fined

Must Also Pay Towing Charge

A 17-year-old Marion youth, charged with reckless operation of his auto and resisting arrest, following a wild 80-mile-per-hour chase through Marion's East Side Tuesday night, was fined $25 and costs at a hearing in Juvenile Court today.

He must also pay the charge for having a police cruiser towed out of mud on the Municipal Airport grounds. His driving rights were also suspended indefinitely by Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo.

The chase started at E. Center St. and State St. and ended after the youth drove the car through the airport grounds. The police car which gave chase became mired in mud.

3 Lima Men Plead Guilty to Robbery

TOLEDO, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Three Lima men pleaded guilty to armed robbery of the Farmers' Bank of Elida, O., in arraignment before Federal Judge Frank L. Kloeb here today.

James C. Breese, 27; Mitchell K. Rigel, 22, and William D. Metzer, 23, who admitted the theft of $3,200 in a daylight holdup on Oct. 17, will appear for sentencing on Dec. 14.

Rigel also pleaded guilty to violation of the Dyer Act, involving an automobile stolen from Lima on May 2 and driven to Chattanooga, Tenn.

COUP IN THAILAND

BANGKOK, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Thailanders awoke today to find that a military clique had abolished the constitution, dissolved parliament and seized control of the government in a bloodless overnight coup.

As the greatest atom air raid drill in history changes New York City into a temporary ghost town, some 1,800 traders in stocks and bonds abandon the floor of the stock exchange to seek shelter until the all clear sounds. Prof. Keller has been head of the Ohio Wesleyan music department since 1934. His major fields of interest are organ, theory, and choral conducting, and he has held the position of minister of music in churches in Michigan, Indiana, and Ohio. Before coming to Ohio Wesleyan, he was university organist a year at Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn. On leave of absence from Ohio Wesleyan in 1945-46, he taught at Biarritz American University, Biarritz, France, at the invitation of the government in the program of post-war U. S. Army colleges which it established in Europe.

He holds artist's diploma from Chicago Musical College, Bachelor of Music and Master of Music degrees from University of Michigan, and studied organ in Europe with Marcel Dupre, organist of St. Suplice at Paris, France. He is a member of national music honor societies, of Omicron Delta Kappa Phi, national honorary society of the American Guild of organists, and of Kiwanis Club. One of his varied hobbies is American folk music.

Has Sung Here Before

Mrs. Fenholt has sung in "The Messiah" previously at Oxford, O., and Hamilton, as well as in Marion, and has appeared in cantatas, operettas, and programs of music clubs throughout the state. She has sung frequently on the state university radio programs of Station WOSU, Columbus, and Station WMRN, Marion. A graduate of Miami University at Oxford, she is a member of Delta Omicron, professional music sorority, and in Columbus is a member of the Women's Music Club and is a church soloist.

Mr. Mattes is tenor soloist at St. John's Lutheran Church in Springfield. He is well known throughout this part of Ohio for his oratorio work, and has appeared in many performances of "The Messiah," and has done solo parts with the Wittenberg College a cappella choir on its annual tours.

Prof. Ham is head of the voice department in the music school of Wittenberg College. He taught for a time at Wittenberg, then from 1932 to 1936, he traveled throughout this country in leading roles with two Chicago opera companies with oratorio and concert work in addition. In 1937, he returned to teaching duties at Wittenberg. A native of Michigan, he began his musical education at the American Conservatory in Chicago, receiving there the Bachelor and Master of Music degrees, and he studied voice with the late Karleton Hackett, dean of Chicago music critics and distinguished vocal instructor. Graduate study was done in New York and Chicago previous to the time he came as a member of the faculty to Wittenberg. His concert and oratorio appearances are increasingly in demand, it was stated.

Voice Teacher

Mrs. Hale, who started her career at an early age as a piano student at the Dayton Conservatory of Music, then studied voice with Dr. John Finley Williamson of the famous Westminister Choir and Choir College at Princeton, N. J., has been a private voice teacher in Marion a number of years. During her time with the Westminster Choir she was soloist with the Touring Choir Group, going in 1925 on the first eastern tour of large cities of the section. Both years of the New York World's Fair, the choir gave performances with Bruno Walter conducting his fiftieth anniversay program at Carnegie Hall.

She has made numerous radio, recital and oratorio appearances in Michigan and Ohio, was soloist many years at churches of different denominations and faiths at Dayton, Lansing, Mich., Youngstown, and Marion, and has been soloist in 18 performances of "The Messiah" and directed the presentation of the oratorio here six years ago. In Marion she has been soloist also for First Presbyterian Church, directed choir at Trinity Baptist Church, was soloist two years and choir director 12 years at Epworth Church.

forget the primary elections and get to work on the platform."

The Taft forces had said previously, they would not challenge Stassen's attempt to control the Minnesota delegation, contenting themselves with testing their popular strength in the April 1 Wisconsin primary and in Ohio, where Taft support is regarded as a foregone conclusion.

However, David Ingalls, one of the Taft campaign leaders, said in a statement that Dunn had been "named head of the Taft drive for delegates in Minnesota." Dunn was a Stassen supporter in 1948.

Sends Telegram

In a telegram to Dunn, made public here, Taft said "I would like you to handle all of my affairs in Minnesota. I am looking forward to working with you in the campaign."

Dunn said in reply that he is enlisting in the Taft campaign "because I feel deeply he is the leader America needs at this time."

"No taint of corruption or of selfishness has ever touched him and what is significant at this time is that he has not only the experience and, therefore, the 'know how' so vital to a successful government administration, but he has, in an extraordinary degree, the political courage for the difficult task of housecleaning," Dunn declared.

REV. BUCKLEY FAIR

The condition of the Rev. M. L. Buckley of Marion, a patient in City Hospital, was still reported as "fair" today by hospital attendants. A retired pastor and former Marion mayor, he was found lying unconscious in a field at the end of Windsor St. Wednesday night suffering from exposure, after wandering from his home at 454 Bellefontaine Ave. the previous night.

$1,939 Received From Sale Of Christmas Seals

Amount of Christmas Seal sales in Marion County stands to date at $1,939 55, Mrs. W. E. Miley, executive secretary of the Marion County Tuberculosis and Health Association, reported today.

She urged that those who have not sent in their money for the seals do so by Dec. 15. On that date follow-up cards will be sent each one who has not yet responded. Letters to residents of the community together with sheets of the seals went out Nov. 19.

Proceeds from the seals, $1 per sheet of 100, goes to the support of work of the Tuberculosis and Health Association to provide X-rays, clinics and health education in the city and county.

Judd

she said the inability to see her mother caused her to leave.

She surrendered quietly the next morning when sherriff's deputies found her huddled in an orange grove several miles from the hospital.

"Yesterday was Mother's day, she cried on that occasion, "and they wouldn't let me see her. I asked to see her but he (the superintendent) told me I could see her only five minutes and then under three guards."

Mrs. Judd killed her roommates, Agnes Anne Leroi and Bedvig Samuelson on Oct. 16, 1931.

Their bodies expertly cut into pieces, were crammed into a trunk and a suitcase and shipped to Los Angeles by train. The contents were discovered when a baggage room employe noticed blood seeping from the trunk.

Eluded Capture

Mrs. Judd eluded capture for a week, hiding one night behind rugs in a Los Angeles department store and spending the rest of the time in a vacant cottage at a suburban sanitorium cottage. She surrendered to police in an undertaking parlor.

She was convicted of murder Feb. 8, 1932, and was sentenced be hanged. The prosecution contended she killed Miss Leroi and Miss Samuelson in a jealous rage over the attentions of a prominent Phoenix business man.

Her execution was set for May 11 but she obtained a stay of execution by appealing to the state Supreme Court. The court rejected the appeal in 1933. Within 72 hours of the execution date the warden of the state prison ordered a sanity hearing for the once attractive, but then haggard woman. A jury of ranchers and cowboys at Florence, Ariz., found her insane, and she was transferred to the asylum at Phoenix.

Mrs. Judd escaped twice in the fall of 1939, remaining at liberty six days the first time and 12 days the second.

Arsenal Blows Up In Korea, 6 Killed

PUSAN, KOREA, Nov. 30—(AP)—The Korean government arsenal here blew up today in a series of awesome blasts that spread damage across an area four miles wide.

American soldiers housed in the general area escaped injury but U.S. Army authorities said six Koreans were killed and at least 50 were injured.

Korean authorities said 48 homes were destroyed, 100 others were badly damaged and 400 more were damaged in some degree. They estimated the total damage at $20,000,000.

Air War

passed on the roads without being spotted. Two thousand trucks are spotted on an average heavy night.

The Reds' phenomenal rush to build up supplies and presumably troops came as the ground forces went through their third day of "twilight war" and Red truce negotiators again balked at guaranteeing against an increase in their forces during an armistice.

Returning pilots reported they destroyed 300 Red trucks and damaged an unestimated number.

Joy States Flat Terms To Chinese

MUNSAN, Korea, Nov. 30 — (AP) — Allied truce negotiators today flatly refused even to discuss the withdrawal of troops from Korea until an armistice is signed.

They also made it clear the U.N. command will not modify its demand for (1) joint inspection teams behind the battle lines and (2) an ironclad ban on strengthening front line troops.

"We are going to insist upon those principles," Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. negotiator, told the Reds. "We are not going to agree to immediate withdrawal of U.N. command forces from Korea. Is that clear? The sooner it is clear, the sooner we will begin to make profitable use of the time of this conference."

Replying to Joy's 30-minute opening statement at Panmunjom, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il repeatedly called the Allied proposals "unreasonable and impractical."

Nevada Atomic Tests Finished

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 30—(AP) America's atom masters, satisfied that they have found new facets of nuclear know-how, closed the book today on the 1951 fall test series.

The Atomic Energy Commission and the Army wound up their joint show with an afternoon blast yesterday. It was the seventh and one of the least spectacular of a series that started Oct. 22.

Unofficially it was the 27th atomic explosion in history — all set off by the U. S. but Russia has admitted three.

Test manager Carroll L. Tyler said the series produced "data important to the nation's military security."

FIVE-DAY FORECAST:

Temperatures will average about 10 degrees above normal. Normal maximum 42 north, 47 south. Normal minimums 28 north and 30 south. Mild weather continuing until Thursday or Wednesday when rain and a change to cooler is indicated. Total rainfall ranging from one-tenth to three-tenths of an inch.

Accuse Fight Victim of Making False Report

Charles Henry Dilley, 39, of Leesville will be charged today with disorderly conduct in that he made a false report to police, Chief Tom Coon reported today.

Police received a call Thursday at 9:15 a.m. reporting a man covered with blood was driving a car west on Mt. Vernon Ave. Dilley was stopped at Mt. Vernon Ave. and E. Church St. by police.

When he was taken to the police station he told officers he was stopped between Marion and Zanesville by a man who beat him up and robbed him of $70.

When police told Dilley they planned to check on his story he passed out and he was taken to Marion City Hospital where he was treated for a bloody nose.

Police officers said a check of Dilley's story revealed he had been involved in a fight in a bar at Zanesville Wednesday night and had received a bloody nose. A number of items in Dilley's car were covered with blood.

C&O Installs Tray Service For Dining Passengers

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30—(AP) — Passengers on certain Chesapeake & Ohio trains have been eating off trays lately.

It is an experiment, the road said today, in serving and preparing food in similar fashion to that employed by airlines. The food is bought pre-cooked and frozen, then warmed in an electric oven and served.

Thomas J. Deegan, vice president in charge of passenger traffic and public relations, said both the road and passengers like the system.

The passengers, he continued, get their meals cheaper and the road, for the first time, finds it can break even financially on diner service.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Not Much of Anything

I don't know about the future of women in television or, for that matter, anywhere else. Time magazine in a recent article on the younger generation, referred to modern American women as "emotional DPs," a fine phrase for them. Just now an awful lot of these displaced persons are being displaced on television, the latest being Sarah Churchill, the daughter of Winston, who has a 15-minute interview program on CBS-TV at 5:15 p.m. EST Sundays.

John Crosby

Miss Churchill is a handsome girl with a long intelligent face, a broad brow, a good deal of experience in the theater and—most importantly—a wide acquaintanceship among the celebrated folk. Her program we were informed on the opening one would be "fireside chats with famous celebrities of government, politics, business and the theater." That, of course, is the curse of a lot of other programs and most of the "famous celebrities" a redundancy I won't forgive easily, have been interviewed almost to the end of their wits and certainly to the end of mine.

HER FIRST GUEST was Samuel Goldwyn, the noted scholar and critic of the motion picture industry, who vouchsafed—that's a word that's been lying around here unused for five years now—that you can't make a lot of pictures and make good ones. It's a thesis Mr. Goldwyn has stated many times before in magazine articles, interviews and one place and another but just possibly it needs restatement for the television audience a good portion of which doesn't know what movies are. This led into a plug for Mr. G's last picture and for his next one, that being one of the requirements of this game. You get the celebrities for nothing but you've got to pat the movie (or the book or the play) on the head of the famous folk sulk.

Right there lies the weakness of most interview programs, everyone is just too darned polite to everyone else. You can't ask really searching questions because searching questions are likely to be embarrassing questions. And you mustn't embarrass a celebrity or he won't play. I hasten to add that this desire to rumple the hair of the famous folk is not sadism on my part—not entirely anyway—but a simple healthy desire to put a little ginger into these programs.

ABOUT THE ONLY sensible and pertinent and reasonably lively discussion I've heard on Miss Churchill's program was contributed by Russel Crouse, who said, among other things, "Nobody can read my typewriting except myself." From there he went on to talk about his collaboration with Howard Lindsay and especially about the use they make of an audience as a third collaborator. "We think if an audience doesn't laugh at a line, it isn't funny—no matter how funny it is. We listen to an audience very carefully at the tryouts. I don't think an audience coughs because it has a cold—I think they're bored."

Miss Churchill listens to these observations with poise, and sometimes, considering what's being said in unreasoning degree of interest. She's one of the best listeners on TV if that's any recommendation, but on the more positive side I have some reservations. Her own contributions to the conversation delivered in that fashionably cracked voice which Margaret Sullavan has made standard practice for all actresses, seem a trifle too studied and lack what I can only describe as pith. At least there's not enough pith there to justify putting it all on television.

WHEN NOT interviewing Miss Churchill is wont—another word that has not been earning its keep around here—to read the poetry of William Blake. This led on one occasion into a commercial for Hallmark greeting cards, possibly the strangest use Blake's poetry has ever been put to, and one I'm sure he wouldn't approve of. Tony Beauchamp, Miss Churchill's husband, is also on the program, usually shakes hands with the visiting celebrity, and then vanishes discreetly. I consider this an improper or at least insufficient use of a husband, but then I expect it's none of my business. Beauchamp, incidentally, is pronounced Beecham. Don't know how they pronounce Beecham in England, Worcestershire, probably.

ALL OF WHICH brings us back to the future of women in television. Women, as Ed Wynn has sagely remarked, are prettier than men—except on Kinescope. But, if they're just going to stand around being decorative, it's going to give the sex a bad name.

The presentation will be made by Harold J. Grigsby a past master of the lodge and a personal friend of Lewis, who received his Master Mason degree on Oct. 11, 1901. William J. Fies who is now a resident of the Ohio Masonic Home was master of Marion Lodge at that time. Due to his health he will not be able to be present for the meeting.

In addition to honoring Lewis, the past masters of the lodge will confer the Master Mason degree. All the stations of the lodge will be occupied by men who have served the lodge as worshipful master.

Kenneth E. Fields, is the worshipful master of Marion Lodge and will have charge of the meeting.

Marion Passes Bond Quota

Robert E. White, Marion County defense bond chairman, announced today that the county reached a final percentage of 128.6 in the fall defense bond drive with total sales of Series E Bonds amounting to $160,773.

The campaign began Sept. 3 and closed Nov. 13 with all counties except Clinton, Fayette, Morgan and Vinton reaching their quotas.

It was announced in Columbus that sales of Series E Bonds in the state totaled $52,504,313 during the drive as compared with $39,781,366 for the same period last year.

Sen. Wherry, Senate GOP Leader, Dies

Party Stalwart, 59, Pneumonia Victim Following Operation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Sen. Kenneth Spicer Wherry of Nebraska, one of the top Republicans in the Senate and a jolly, aggressive salesman of old GOP policy, died yesterday at the age of 59.

Wherry, who had been floor leader for the Republicans since 1949, died of pneumonia. He had undergone an abdominal operation last month but lately had been reported recuperating.

His secretary, Lorne Kennedy, said the doctors had authorized him to say that the operation disclosed a malignant tumor but that the immediate cause of death was pneumonia.

Wherry became ill Wednesday night and was taken to the George Washington University Hospital Thursday morning, suffering from chills and fever with respiratory complications. Death came at 12:45 p.m.

A never-let-up battler for the political causes he believed in, Wherry had been looking forward to further service in the Senate and perhaps to a major role in the 1952 presidential campaign.

He fought against virtually everything proposed or undertaken by President Truman, but the President once wrote him:

"While you and I are as far apart as the poles on policy, I can admire an honest opponent."

Funeral services for Wherry will be Monday at the Presbyterian Church in Pawnee City, Neb., his home town, at 2 p.m.

SENATOR WHERRY

Battle Over Floor Leader Up To Taft

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) could call the turn today on a possible battle among Senate Republicans over a new floor leader, with overtones of foreign policy and the presidential campaign.

Taft, himself seeking the 1952 GOP presidential nomination, had only to say the word for an all-out battle between his friends and supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower over the leadership post vacated by the death of Senator Wherry of Nebraska.

Taft, today enroute back to Ohio from North Carolina, chose to say nothing at all about the leadership post while expressing regret at Wherry's death. He is expected to maintain silence until after Wherry's funeral in Pawnee City, Neb., Monday.

Wherry's death left open the minority floor leader's job—a job carrying with it the prospect that its holder, if the GOP should win the presidency next year, would become the Senate spokesman for a Republican administration.

These two possible candidates to succeed Wherry emerged immediately.

Senator Everett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who has classed himself as an "internationalist" and is supporting Eisenhower. Saltonstall, who was Wherry's assistant, declined comment.

Senator William Knowland of California, one of the leading critics of the Truman administration's handling of Far Eastern affairs, who is supporting Gov. Earl Warren in the latter's active bid for the GOP nomination.

Taft might easily add a third of his own choosing—or he might back either Saltonstall or Knowland in a move to avoid a party-splitting fight. Senators Dirksen of Illinois or Brewster of Maine, outright Taft backers, or Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa were mentioned as possible candidates.

SOLDIER ARRESTED

A 28-year-old Glouster, O. man was arrested by military police officers from Ft. Hayes, Columbus, at 9:25 a.m. Friday at a N. Main St. filling station where he had been working. He was charged with being absent without leave since Aug. 7. He was taken to Ft. Hayes for military action.

Elected to Office In District Assoc.

At the annual meeting of the Fifteenth Masonic District Officers Association, which was held at East Liberty Thursday night the following officers were elected: William F. Blinn of Bellefontaine, president; John Henry McCurdy of Marion, vice president, and Harold W. Hall of Marion, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Blinn succeeds Scott Creviston of Marysville as president. The Fifteenth Masonic District is composed of the Masonic Lodges in Logan, Union, Marion and Morrow Counties.

Speakers on the program were Robert A. Burri of Springfield, superintendent of the Ohio Masonic Home; Andrew J. White of Columbus, senior grand deacon of the Grand Lodge F. and A. M. of Ohio; and Thomas A. Reber, deputy grand master of the Grand Lodge.

The meeting was preceded by the conferring of the Past Masters degree on the Masters-elect of the 18 lodges of the district.

Arrangements were made for holding the annual work day of the Association in Marion, as guests of Sojourners Lodge 653 Jan. 12. The spring meeting will be held at Richwood April 29, the fall meeting at West Mansfield Sept. 29, and the annual meeting Nov. 29 at Marion.

Galion War Brides Tell Of "A Better England"

(Special to The Star)

GALION — Two Galion war brides who returned to their homes here Wednesday after a two months' trip to their British homeland, report a better England than when they left it—but not to be compared to conditions in this country.

The two young women are Mrs. Rollo Wilson, who made the trip with her 4-year-old son, Duncan, and Mrs. James Hull, who took her two children, Glenda Mae, 3, and Julia Ann, 8 months.

They sailed from New York, Sept. 14 for Southampton, England, and returned to New York Tuesday, Nov. 27, from Southampton, making both trips on the Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth. The group left Southampton, Nov. 21.

It was the first trip back to England in 6½ years for Mrs. Wilson who was married there Oct. 29, 1944, and joined her husband in Galion in April, 1946. She visited her father, H. G. Stratton and met her stepmother for the first time. They live at Dilcot, county of Berkshire. She also was reunited with a married sister and her family, and a younger brother who lives at home. She missed seeing another brother who is serving with the air corps at Gibraltar.

Mrs. Hull who came to the United States, Jan. 1, 1947, and was married at Mansfield, Jan. 11, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hladen at Hanley in Staffordshire, England. She also visited with three sisters and an uncle.

"The housing shortage is critical," Mrs. Hull reports from her observance in England. She said that so many houses are being demolished because they are not fit to live in, and that many young married people are living with their parents.

Mrs. Wilson who visited at Dilcot, about 60 miles from London, said that she found everything better than she had left it five and a half years ago. "Food is much more plentiful, although meat is still scarce. It can be obtained only twice a week. Sugar, sweets, tea, and all fats, butter and bacon, are still rationed," Mrs. Wilson said in an interview today.

Both young women said that everything is very expensive, although wages have not gone up with the cost of living. They observed that there are now more refrigerators and washing machines in homes, and traffic is heavier with more automobiles than when they left their homeland in 1946 and 1947.

"A housewife must use ingenuity in planning a menu," Mrs. Wilson stated. "Sausages are cooked frequently, rabbit stew is served often because there are plenty of rabbits, and fish is plentiful although it is expensive," Mrs. Wilson explained. She said that cold and canned meats are not rationed, flour is now off the ration list and the English people can have all the bread they want. There also is more milk, now, Mrs. Wilson reported.

CLOTHING REPORT HEARD

A report on used clothing sent to Korea was made at a meeting of the First Church of the Nazarene Missionary Society Wednesday night. Congregational singing was led by Howard Orr with Mrs. Mary Ellen White at the piano. Mrs. Ethel Brown offered prayer, and Mrs. Ora Fraunfelter led devotions on Isaiah's vision. Prayers following were by Homer Nagley and Mrs. C. W. Shearer. Business was in charge of Mrs. Homer Negley. Mrs. Mabel McWherter gave a talk on "Nazarene Lighthouses," and Mrs. Verna Cleveland presented the lesson from the study book. It was reported that three boxes of clothing had been sent to Korea. Closing prayer was by the Rev. C. L. Wooten.

IN THE SERVICE

William C. Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Gilbert of 541 Pearl St., was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant first class while serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea. He was graduated from Harding High School in 1948 and worked as a lineman for the Ohio Associated Telephone Co. before entering the service in 1950. He has been in Korea since March.

Visits Marion Office

India Official Studies Employment Service

By ANGELYN PALERMO

Marion had a visitor from India Thursday afternoon. He was M. Arjunadass, sub-regional officer of the national employment exchange of India with headquarters in Anantpur in the state of Madras, India.

His first visit to the United States, the visitor was given a six-month visa to study the operation of employment offices in the country. He spent the afternoon at the Ohio State Employment Service in Marion, where Fred B. Scheff, manager, explained to him the operations of the local office.

In good English, Arjunadass explained, "I wish to study methods and procedures developed in this country in various aspects of the employment service with the object of incorporating in India's service features which will be beneficial."

Finds Ohio Leading State

The 34-year-old officer discussed counseling, testing, employer relations and labor market information with employes of the local employment service. He found that Ohio is the leading state in the program of gathering and dispersing labor market information as a service to employers as well as other interested individuals.

"In 1945," Arjunadass reported, "the employment service was started in India to assist ex-servicemen in securing employment. This service was expanded in 1948 to serve everyone, and now has 150 offices."

The visitor, who learned to speak English in high school in Madras, has a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics and a Bachelor of Law degree from the University of Madras.

He described the elementary schools in India as extending through five years and the high schools, six years. Students, he explained, are required to take standard tests before starting high school, after three years of high school and before entering college.

Studies in Washington

Arjunadass flew from Bombay to London, from London to New York and then to Washington, D. C., where he arrived Oct. 11. He spent a month in Washington studying the operation of the Bureau of Employment Security. From Washington, he went by train to the regional employment office in Cleveland and then to the state office in Columbus, spending three days there.

Accompanying the visitor Thursday was R. S. Beach of Columbus, chief of industrial services at the State Administrative Office of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation. The two men visited the local office at Delaware Thursday morning and then came to Marion.

Arjunadass left Thursday night for the regional employment office at Chicago. His itinerary will end in February, when he will return to Washington. He will leave for India the last week in March.

When asked his impression of the United States, the visitor smiled and remarked, "This is a great country and a highly developed one. I like the gentle hospitality and the informality of the people."

Arjunadass, who makes his home in Anantpur in the state of Madras, India, is in charge of four employment offices in India. He is married and has two children, a boy 4 and a girl 2.

STEEL CONTRACT DISCUSSED. Extending a cordial handclasp, Phil Murray, head of the CIO and the United Steelworkers union, greets John Stephens, vice president in charge of industrial relations for United States Steel, at a hotel in Pittsburgh while Clifford Hood, executive vice president in charge of operations of U. S. Steel, looks on. Union and company officials are discussing a possible sixth round wage hike and other proposals.

Drivers Fined After Mishap

Autos Collide Near Mt. Gilead

Two drivers were arrested Thursday after their vehicles collided on Route 61, four miles south of Mt. Gilead, at 2 p.m.

Roy H. Murray, 27, of Columbus, driver of a tractor and semi-trailer, struck a wrecker driven by Kenneth Anderson, 47, also of Columbus, in an attempt to pass as both were going south. The vehicles, as well as a car which the wrecker was towing, were forced into a ditch and were damaged slightly.

Anderson was arrested by state highway patrolmen on a charge of driving left of center and Murray was charged with improper passing. Each was fined $10 and costs by Mayor R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead after pleading guilty.

Verna M. Reber, 21, of Upper Sandusky was charged with speeding on Route 23 at 3:55 p.m. She pleaded guilty before L. C. Schoenberger, justice of the peace in Upper Sandusky, and was fined $10 and costs.

John P. Conley, 54, of Columbus was arrested at 1:30 p.m. on Route 23 on a charge of driving without a driver's license. He posted bond for appearance Saturday in Marion Municipal Court.

Central Oregon's Wind Cave, a lava tunnel some 12 miles south of Bend, is approximately a mile long and considered one of the best specimens of this type of cave in the nation.

Scientists only recently proved that the warm Gulf Stream current wanders sometimes hundreds of miles as it shifts its course in response to unknown pressures.

Traffic Light Repairs To Be Made Sunday

Traffic lights in the downtown section of Marion will be on caution from 9 p.m. Sunday until Monday morning, Police Chief Tom Coon reported today.

He said a new control box will be installed then at police headquarters to allow better operation and repair of the lights. The installation work will take most of the night, Chief Coon said.

Police will be on hand to direct traffic at some of the affected intersections. The lights will be on caution at the following intersections: W. Center and Orchard St.; W. Center St. and Oak St.; W. Center St. and Prospect St.; Center St. and Main St.; E. Center St. and State St.; E. Church St. and S. State St.; S. Main St. and Church St.; and W. Church St. and S. Prospect St.

Since V-J Day the total electrical generating capacity in the U. S. has jumped 40 per cent.

Students in ROTC

Get Draft Break

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—A memorandum which virtually defers from the draft all college students now in Army Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) units was signed Thursday by Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense.

Aides of Mrs. Rosenberg said the memorandum told the Army it could order local draft boards to defer up to 129,500 men in ROTC units.

In 1231 the Golden Horde of Genghis Khan swarmed across the Yalu River in one of the first invasions of Korea. Since then Korean history has been marked by a series of invasions.

Farmers Asked To Increase Production

Special Effort To Boost Grain Yields Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30—(AP)—The government today called upon farmers to push production next year 4 per cent above this year's near record yields to meet "the greatest needs we have ever faced."

Announcing planting goals for spring crops, acting Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick urged growers to put forth special effort to boost production of livestock feed grains so that a high level output of meat, milk and eggs might be maintained.

Acting in the absence of Secretary Brannon who is on an official trip to the Near East, McCormick acknowledged that farmers will have a tough job because of shortages of fertilizers, some types of farm machinery and a tightening farm labor supply.

Promise Help

Promising as much help as possible, the department said it would be prepared to support producer prices of corn, cotton, wheat, rice, soybeans, wool, milk and butterfat at maximum levels permitted by law. That level is 90 per cent of parity. (Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices, declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.)

However, no supports were promised for hogs, beef cattle, poultry, eggs and other perishable products. None of these products is being supported this year.

Truman

surance of the future safety of UN forces, "including those who are prisoners of the enemy."

Mr. Truman supplemented his formal statement with an off-the-cuff lecture to assembled newsmen on what he called fake cease-fire and armistices stories.

He said he was marching in France on Oct. 27, 1918, with his battery when he came upon a French newspaper with headlines proclaiming the signing of an armistice. Just as he read the headline, he said, a shell burst 100 yards from on one side and another on the other side.

That story, he said, was put out by Roy Howard, then writing for the United Press, and it was a fake.

He went on to say that an Associated Press story out of Seoul yesterday, saying that on orders from the highest source, possibly the White House, ground fighting had been brought to a complete, if temporary halt, was on a parallel with it.

Mr. Truman said he understood the AP story came out because of intense competition for news.

AP Replies

A spokesman for The Associated Press in New York said:

"There is no foundation for suggesting that pressure was involved in an Associated Press news dispatch from Seoul Wednesday speculating on the battle zone indications that orders causing a lull in the Korean ground fighting came from the 'highest sources, possible from the White House.'"

"It was a fact that the ground shooting was halted as a result of orders or directives given to the U N. fighting forces.

"The AP dispatch in question was part of a frontline repertorial effort to explain the effect as well as the possible origins of orders which are still surrounded by mystery. The Associated Press did not report a 'cease-fire' order had been issued. It has fully reported the facts, so far as they have been obtainable and observable, including all authoritative statements which have (1) denied any 'cease-fire' order has been issued, but (2) not disputed the fact that a lull developed in frontline ground fighting."

The United Press in New York had no comment on the President's statement.

A scientific survey now under way at the Palomar Observatory in California will attempt to ascertain the approximate number of shining heavenly bodies which populate the visible universe.

Agriculture Dept. Cites Needs

Urge Farmers Be Given Electric Power First

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30 —(AP)— The Agriculture Department is going to some length to show that—in its opinion—the farmer should come ahead of the city man in allocation of scarce materials for electrical service.

It is circulating a 20-page pamphlet designed to prove that it is more important from the standpoint of the national welfare that farmers get what additional service can be supplied under the defense program.

Officials say the pamphlet was put out in an effort to combat opinion held by some defense officials and sections of the general public that electric service for the farmer is a luxury.

Difficult Time

"We're having a difficult time," they said, "getting defense officials to recognize agriculture's need for more power."

"Some have said," says the pamphlet, "that critical materials should not be provided for rural electrification, arguing that farmers who have done without electricity throughout the years should be able to do without it a while longer."

The department says these views are voiced by persons who do not question allocation of scarce copper and other materials in providing urban electrical service.

"Yet the fact is that electric service far from being a luxury is even more vital for farmers than for urban people," the pamphlet continues. "For the city family, electricity means comfort and convenience. For the farm family, it means that and much more. It means production power. x x x.

"The development of electrified farming has been so rapid and so unobstrusive that many people have little idea of the productive force electricity injects into American agriculture at this time when unprecedented demands are being made upon farmers."

The department says 800,000 farms still are without power. Many of those connected with power lines are not getting adequate service, it adds.

Farm consumption of electrical power has increased 500 per cent since 1940. As a result of this spectacular increase, rural power facilities are being taxed to the limit.

"Dependable, continuous service is more important to farmers than to urban residents," the pamphlet says. "An interruption of service or undue voltage variation may cause farmers irreparable losses.

"A cold brooder or a dead water pump motor may mean death to farm animals and poultry. Likewise, the failure of a milking machine may cause a loss in milk production."

The department says agriculture's need for more power is emphasized by the fact that it is losing much manpower to the armed services and city industries. Farm employment dropped 351,000 last year and now is 1,380,000 under the 1945-49 average of 14,732,000 workers.

SPEAKS BEFORE KIWANIS

GALION—An informative talk about bees and their effect upon agricultural crops was given recently by Ivan T. Beck of Marysville to members of the Kiwanis Club of Galion. Beck, bee-keeper and former school teacher, addressed the club at the luncheon meeting which was held at Hotel Talbott. Robert Corry was program chairman for the meeting.

The snake-killing secretary bird often will soar high into the air, carrying its prey with it, then drop it on the hard ground, ending the battle.

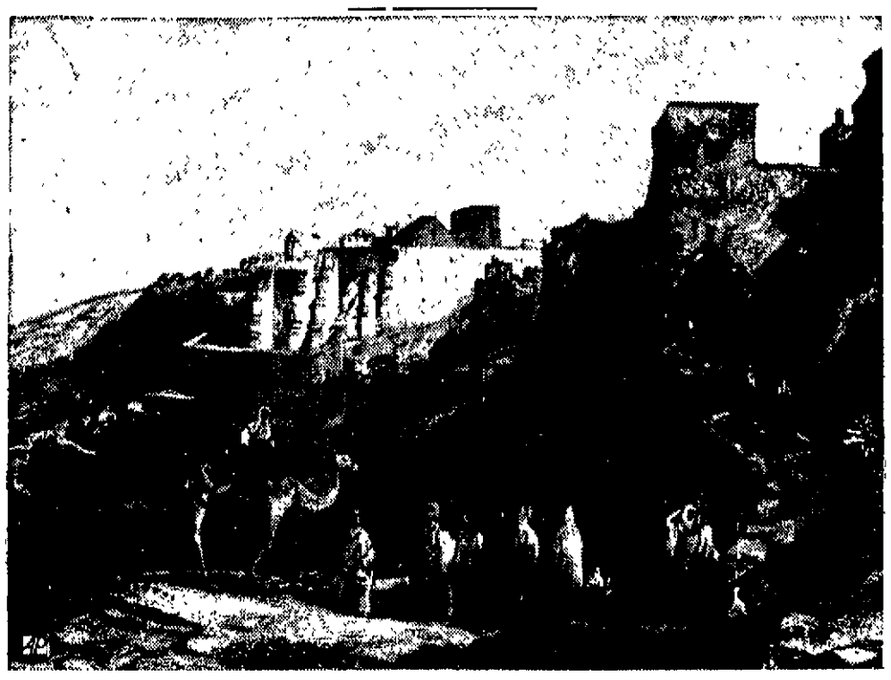
THE JOURNEY TO BETHLEHEM

(One of a series of six weekly installments picturing the story of Christmas)



AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem: (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

Grid Powers Play With Eyes on Bowl Bids

through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

AP POLL TIME. The Associated Press office in New York recently sent out a questionnaire urging sports editors to give their opinion on the '51 football season.

The answers we gave were brief ones and it would be possible to devote a full column on any one of the first five questions.

The latter half deals with:

5. What was the biggest upset and/or surprise of the season? (Please restrict your reply to a single incident or game rather than "the failure of Siwash to win a game all season.")

6. What was the biggest surprise?

7. Who was the season's outstanding back? The outstanding lineman?

8. What was the season's outstanding one-day showpiece by a single player?

9. What was the outstanding oddity? (Unrehearsed play, the 12th man, water-boy kicking winning extra point, etc.)

ONE MAN'S OPINION. 1.—Having played college football, I am heartily against spring practice. During the regular season, Saturday's big game is the reward for a grueling week of bumping heads . . . In spring practice there is no Saturday reward. Then too, there is the usual time away from the player's studies. Spring practice is "overtime" without compensation.

2. Bowl games, in my estimation, are commercialism at its highest, necessitating in still more time away from studies. A lot of added confetti thrown in when most schools are considering their chances in basketball.

DOWN WITH EVERYTHING. 3. At the risk of being tagged as a "down with everything," individual—I do not favor the two platoon system. A member of the starting eleven once meant something to be proud of. Now it means either offense or defense. As an example Dick Kazmaier of Princeton went through his junior and senior year without having made a tackle . . . That makes him a football player? One of the reasons it is deemed possible by many coaches to score as often on defense as on offense is the opposition's lack of fundamentals brought on by the platoon system.

4. I favor an uncontrolled TV system for football with smaller surrounding schools being compensated for their losses. TV or no TV, an all-star game will still pack 'em in with proceeds from television more than making up for the deficit.

5. The failure of Ohio State with Vic Janowicz in the backfield to score more than three points in the final three games against Illinois, Northwestern, and Michigan. In this day of high-scoring, it was almost unbelievable.

6. PASS, PASS, PASS. Southern Methodist's passing in the first half of the Notre Dame game . . . All passing, no running . . . no element of suspense.

7. I'll take Fred Benners of SMU. The greatest I have ever witnessed in throwing long and short aerials. Sonny Gandee of Ohio State was tops as a defensive end. Another Ed Sprinkle.

8. Bob McColl's performance with Stanford against Southern California. He punted, passed, tackled, and did everything that day.

9. The play that found Illinois losing 33 yards against Ohio State. The Illini ended up on its own 4-yard line.

Maj. E. H. Armstrong, veteran radio scientist, contributed a great deal to modern circuitry in all types of receivers. His superheterodyne circuit is widely used today, even in television.

Browns Need Win Over Cards for Title

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—The Cleveland Browns—in striking distance of the divisional crown—play the Chicago Cardinals Sunday in their last home game of the season.

The Browns are a game and a half ahead of the second place new York Giants with three games to go in the National Pro Football League's American division.

A victory Sunday would clinch a spot in the playoff for the championship—if the Pittsburgh Steelers upset the Giants.

The Browns beat the Giants twice. The Steelers tied the Giants the first time around.

Cleveland trimmed the Cardinals, 34-17, in the first game this season between the Clubs, cashing in on four fumbles and an intercepted pass for three touchdowns and a pair of field goals.

The Cards have won only two games, but each of those was against a rugged club. They beat the Chicago Bears, 28-24, and San Francisco, 27-21. San Francisco's 49ers were the only team to beat the Browns.

Coach Paul Brown—who is not given to predicting victories—has warned his Cleveland club against taking the Cards lightly.

"Everyone is getting beaten when they aren't supposed to this season," he declared. Then he pointed out that the Browns have to win two of their last three games to grab the title—if the Giants don't lose. And he pointed out the Philadelphia Eagles, who the Browns meet in the last game of the season, would be hard to stop if they thought they could keep Cleveland from a championship

Cotton, Orange Classics Still Have Openings

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—(AP)—The waning college football season comes to the end of the trail tomorrow and when all the returns are in, the last 2 major bowl teams probably will be decided.

Kentucky's opponent in the Cotton Bowl will be the winner of the Southwest Conference, and Georgia Tech's Orange Bowl competition may come from one of the Southwest Conference teams that lose out.

Texas Christian can win the Cotton Bowl bid by beating Southern Methodist. If, however, T.C.U. loses and Baylor whips Rice, then Baylor finishes at the top. If Rice wins while T.C.U. loses, the 2 will wind up in a deadlock for first.

Come From Behind

Texas is out of it, having bowed to Texas A. and M. yesterday, 22-21. The Aggies came from behind with 15 points in the third quarter to beat Texas for the first time in 12 years.

There are two other big battles—in a traditional sense—though actually neither means much from a national standpoint. Army meets Navy in Philadelphia, and Notre Dame travels to Los Angeles to play Southern California.

Time was when a couple of contests like this would have definite bearing on the final national rankings. Not this year, though. Southern Clalifornia is the only one of the 4 with a top team. The Trojans won 6 in a row but have lost their last 2.

Notre Dame has been having its ups and downs all season, and Army and Navy for a time looked as though they were going to enter the fray with nary a victory between them. But both defeated Columbia, and Army added the Citadel while Navy also tied Yale.

Even with their poor records, a crowd of about 100,000 is expected to jam Municipal Stadium for the Army-Navy affair, attracted to a large extent by the pomp and ceremony attached to it. Notre Dame and Southern California figure to lure some 50,000.

Games Televised

Both contests will be televised, Army-Navy over a coast-to-coast network and Notre Dame-Southern Cal over a local hookup. Starting time for the former is 1:30 p.m. (EST) and the latter 5:00 p.m. (EST).

Navy and the Trojans rate favorites. The Middies are 8 points over the Cadets while Southern Cal is regarded as a 7-point choice over the Irish.

Tennessee, the No. 1 team in the country in the weekly Associated Press poll, goes against Vanderbilt and is a 26-point choice to record its 20th straight victory. The Vols meet Maryland in the Sugar Bowl, Jan. 1.

Georgia Tech, which has been waiting for its Orange Bowl opponent to be named for nearly a month, will meet Georgia, with the Engineers favored by 7½ points. The Vols and Tech probably will wind up co-champions of the Southeastern Conference.

Young Takes On Durando

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—(AP)—Paddy Young and Ernie Durando, two rock-throwing middleweights, resume their rivalry with a 10-round "rubber" match tonight at Madison Square Garden. The winner gets a Jan. 25 non-title date with Champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

A better-conditioned Young, at least 3 pounds lighter than the 159½ he carried into his Nov. 2 loss to Durando, is expected to beat the 25-year-old Bayonne, N. J. slugger. It will be covered by network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) at 10:00 p.m. (EST).

HARDING OPPONENTS ARE ALL-STATE SELECTIONS. Guard Bob Biggs and Halfback John Lewis of Fremont Ross were listed on the International New Service's all-Ohio high school grid team. Both played their final high school contest against the Harding Presidents. The team was selected by coaches, sports writers and sportscasters throughout Ohio. Dave Rogers, Warren High School back who scored 23 TD's during the season, topped the backfield vote while Calvin Jones, Steubenville guard, led the linemen. The complete squad is pictured above.

Hoyman AP Coach of Year

Steubenville Mentor Victor by Landslide

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30—(AP)—Ray Hoyman, coach of Steubenville's Big Red, is Ohio's outstanding high school football mentor for 1951.

The "coach of the year" crown was placed on his brow today by his brother coaches in the annual Associated Press poll.

The former Massillon High and Miami University player was a landslide victor, although 24 other coaches received one or more votes. A total of 282 ballots was cast.

Next in line was Massillon's Chuck Mather, winner of the laurels two of the last three years, and captor of the state team championship the last four. (Votes are secret—but Mather voted for Hoyman.)

Others ranking high in the race were Jim McDonald of Springfield, and George Vlerebome of Zanesville, who tied for third; Chuck Riffle of Warren and Scraph Pope of Lima Central, tied for fifth; Chet Roush of Dayton Fairmont, Jeff Dehaven of Sandusky, Mal Mackey of Fremont Ross, and Bill Kidd of New Philadelphia.

In an unofficial poll to determine sentiment on favorites to coach next summer's All-Star teams at Akron, Mather was an odds-on choice for the Northern post, and Hoyman for the Southern.

Pope was second to Mather, with Bus Harding of Toledo Libbey third. Close up were Dehaven, Mackey, Riffle and Dick Barrett of Youngstown East. Back of Hoyman for the Rebel job were McDonald—ineligible for the selection since he had the job recently—Vlerebome, Chuck Thackara of Hamilton, and Roush. Thackara also is ineligible this year, having coached the Southerners to victory last summer.

The North-South coaches will be named by the Ohio High School Coaches Association, the Associated Press poll having no bearing on the final selection.

The Azores in the Atlantic Ocean are 888 square miles in area. The islands belong to Portugal.

Boast Speed, Accuracy

Claridon Cagers Lack Size

(This is the second in a series on Marion County League basketball possibilities for this season.)

Coach Herb Bennett's Claridon basketballers will floor a team minus a single 6-footer this season, but the Hornets are counting on speed and spirit to make up for the lack of stretch under the boards.

Claridon has 3 returning lettermen — all 5-11. They are Ray Price, Don Lawrence, and Lon Earl. They, along with Jack Griffiths, 5-11, and Paul Augenstein, 5-9, are expected to make up the starting five.

Replacements will come from Dale Trimmer, Jim Seckle, Bill Wickersham, Charles Loyer, Bob Mayer, Dean Pickett, and Dick French.

Show Accuracy

Bennett has been very pleased with his charges' shooting from outside in early practice sessions. Price and Augenstein have showed particularly well.

Now in his third year as Claridon coach, Bennett says, "If spirit will win, we'll take them all. The boys have been going all out in getting into form."

Claridon, along with Morral, Pleasant, Caledonia, and New Bloomington, is listed as one of the pre-season favorites in the county race.

Coaches Pick Players For All-Double-M League Team

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Nov. 30—Thomas Brown, Caledonia superintendent of schools, was named chairman of the Double-M Six-Man Football League at a dinner meeting of the group this week in Mt. Gilead. An all-league team was also selected.

Glenn Hochenshilt, Chesterville coach, is the vice president; and John Florence, Marengo superintendent, is the secretary and treasurer. Members decided on the league trophies to be awarded to the champion Claridon Hornets and the runner-up Johnsville Raiders.

Football schedule for next season was drawn up. Games will be scheduled the same as last year except the home and away teams will be reversed.

Named to the all-league team were:

First Team

Harlon Baker, and Harold Clever, Johnsville; Ray Price, Paul Augenstein and Jack Griffith, Claridon; and Lynn Gilt, Chesterville.

Second Team

George Puttick, Marengo; Wayne Gray, Jim Kirk and Gene Hunt, Caledonia; Neal James, Chesterville; and Dale Gruber, Johnsville.

Reds Eying Negro Players

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30—(AP)—There's a chance—according to General Manager Gabe Paul, a very good chance—that there will be Negro ballplayers in the Cincinnati Reds' farm organization next season.

The Redleg chief last night confirmed reports that the club is dickering for at least one Negro athlete and a Negro scout.

The player the ball club is trying to get is Charles Harmon, an infielder with Buffalo of the Triple-A International League. The deal started cooking when the Reds had a working agreement with Buffalo, before the minor league club was purchased by the Detroit Tigers, but the Reds reportedly still have first picks on Harmon.

Harmon drove in 139 runs for Olean, N. Y., last season, before going to Buffalo. He had been a basketball player for Toledo University prior to playing for the Pony League outfit.

Paul disclosed that the determination to get Negroes into the Reds' organization solidified last summer, when Warren Giles was president of the Reds. Giles has since left to take over the reins of the National League.

Silverstein, Wolfe Grapple Winners

Ruffy Silverstein and Maurice Roberre won their grapple matches last night at the armory. Silverstein pinned Jules LaRance and Roberre took the third fall over Tony Sinatra.

In the opener, Joe Wolfe and Irish McGee wrestled to a 30-minute draw.

Next week Promoter Les Fishbaugh has a six-man battle royal on tap for local fans.

BEARCATS SET RECORD

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30 —(AP)—The 1951 University of Cincinnati squad shattered 9 Bearcat football records, athletic department statistics showed today. Coach Sid Gillman's charges, who wound up the season with a 10-1 record, ran up more points, gained more yards and won more games than any other team in UC history.

Harding Meets Bexley Tonight In Cage Opener

Coach Kenny Somerlot's Harding basketball quintet will be facing a veteran team when the Prexies open their season tonight at the Coliseum against Bexley of Columbus.

The visitors will boast a starting lineup of five lettermen.

Only two returning monogram winners, Paul Colby, and Jimmy Russell will be in Harding starting lineup. The other three, Paul Geissler, Robbie Miller, and Dick Underwood saw limited service last season.

The Prexies will try to combine speed and Robbie Miller's 6-7 heighth under the boards to compensate for the visitors' seasoned material.

The reserve game will start at 7 p.m. and the varsity game around 8.

Aggies Upset Texas, 22-21

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Nov. 30 —(AP)— The sun shines on Aggieland today—on a Texas A. and M. football team that made its last game the greatest.

From the wreckage of a tragic season, the Aggies arose magnificently yesterday to beat Texas, the team they had rather lick than any other. And that 22-21 decision knocked their bitter rivals from the Southwest Conference race.

Finished in a flurry of fisticuffs, the victory was a salve to deep wounds for a team that was supposed to win the championship and had to wait until the last day of the season to throw its power in the right direction.

Glenn Lippman, Yale Lary and Bill Tidwell, playing their last game as Aggies, and Darrow Hooper, a giant junior with a gifted toe, brought A.&M. the first victory over Texas in 12 years.

Lippman, Lary and Tidwell ripped and smashed the Texas line; Hooper kicked a field goal and a point after touchdown to actually furnish the margin.

Not Out To Get Tiger Back

Dartmouth Coach Scoffs At Roughing Charges

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 30—(AP)—"Outrageous" is how Dartmouth Coach Tuss McLaughry describes charges made by Princeton football players that his team had been "out to get" All-American Dick Kazmaier last Saturday.

The verbal battle started when Kazmaier suffered a broken nose and a slight concussion in the Princeton-Dartmouth game. Later in the gridiron battle, Dartmouth's second-string quarterback, Jack Miller, suffered a broken leg. Princeton won the game 13-0 after 12 men from both teams had been helped off the field.

Yesterday, the daily Princetonian student newspaper, quoted Tiger Quarterback George Stevens as saying, "Kaz was being roughed up on just about every play in the first quarter by Dartmouth's number 80 (Ted Bob Myers)."

Clear Conscience

At Hanover, N. H., Myers said films of the game "prove I was nowhere near Kazmaier when he was put out of action. I can say with a clear conscience I never have injured any player intentionally."

Coach McLaughry stated, "As head of the last team that will play in the Shrine game in San Francisco I know several days before the Princeton game that Kazmaier had accepted an invitation to be one of our players. Therefore it should be obvious that I did not desire to have him banged up against Dartmouth."

About the latest Princetonian charges he said, "I repeat my previous statement that they are outrageous and almost too ridiculous to be commented upon."

Bailey Absent From Harding Grid Picture

Bill Bailey, guard on the Harding football team the past season, was another player missing when the team picture was taken early in the season. The picture ran in The Star this week.

Vernon Juniors Top Pleasant

Vernon Junior High School won its basketball opener by beating Pleasant Juniors, 36-21 yesterday on the Vernon hardcourt.

After leading 24-15, at halftime, Coach Jim Fawley's crew pulled away to make it "no contest" in the second half.

Gene Armstrong took individual scoring honors with 14 points. Sellers had 10 for the losers.

FASTER IMPROVING

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30—(AP)—Luke Easter the big first baseman has undergone a successful operation at Baltimore for removal of cartilage in his left knee the Cleveland Indians said today. The knee kept him out of a number of last season's games.

Both Army, Navy Hungry For Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30—(AP)—Army and Navy—two football teams hungry for victory—meet in Municipal Stadium tomorrow in the service classic of the year. The game will be televised coast to coast.

The West Pointers, who have a record of two wins in eight starts, are a lean lot. Only two players remain of the approximately 30 who saw action against Navy last year—the result of expulsions on charges of cribbing.

Navy, in turn, has only a triumph over Columbia and a 7-7 tie with Yale to show on the credit side in its eight-game schedule.

The Army team has been likened by many to the smoldering embers of a fire that burned brightly for years and then flickered low.

Navy upset victor over Army last year, is in the unfamiliar role of the favored. In the series starting in 1890 Army has won 47, Navy 20 and four games ended in ties.

Coach Lou Little, whose Columbia Lions lost to both Army (14-9) and Navy (21-7) said in New York: "It's my guess that the game will go to the hungrier and the leaner of the two." Many agreed with him.

Ludwig Wins Michigan "M"

Dean Ludwig of Marion was one of 11 Ohioans to win a varsity "M" at the University of Michigan this year, it was announced today.

Ludwig was a member of the Harding High School football and basoketball team before entering Michigan.

He suffered a broken foot in a practice session on Thanksgiving Day and was out for the remainder of the season. He is a center.

Mt. Gilead Ready For Cage Opener

MT. GILEAD, Nov. 30—Mt. Gilead will open its 1951-52 basketball season Tuesday night against the Marengo Wildcats on the Mt. Gilead floor. The Wildcats have already played and lost two games.

Coach Les Grace of Mt. Gilead will carry a 12 man varsity squad this year and an 18 man reserve squad. Listed on the varsity squad for the first game are:

Sophomores and Freshmen make up the reserve squad.

Marion's Jack Jordan Named Muhlenberg's All-East Tackle

The 18-year-old son of a Marion couple has walked off with eastern college football honors despite the fact he has been playing with a team which lost 8 of 9 games during the last season.

Jack Jordan son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Jordan of 354 Summit St. a sophomore at Muhlenberg College at Allentown, Pa., has been named to the All-Eastern and All-State teams by the United Press in the East.

Jordan, an outstanding tackle for the unsuccessful Mules during the past season also was selected to the All-State squad last year while a freshman at Muhlenberg. An oddity in the day of platoon football, Jordan played 60-minute ball in all nine of the Mules' games. He is equally as strong on both defense and offense. His selection takes in all eastern schools including those in the Ivy League such as Princeton, Harvard and Dartmouth as well as Army and Navy.

Studying Medicine

Jordan is majoring in medicine at Muhlenberg but may have to give up his gridiron activity when he embraces a full medical course. He attended high school at Mechanicsburg, Pa. where he was an outstanding student and athlete. He was listed on various "all" teams during his high school career.

Mr. Jordan is an executive with the Sinclair Oil Co. in Marion. A daughter, Beverly is a sophomore at Harding High School.

Fans Boo When Felton Given Draw

CANTON, O., Nov. 30—(AP)—A crowd of about 1,500 booed officials last night when Lester Felton, 147, of Detroit gained a draw in a 10-round main event bout against Bobby Lee, 149, of Baltimore.

Lee floored Felton for an 8-count in the first round and was the crowd favorite.

In preliminaries:

Sammy Masterean 151, Pittsburgh, outpointed Rudy Zadell 156, Barberton, 8.

Herky Kaminsky 127, Pittsburgh outpointed Chili Prado 129, Detroit 6.

Elmer Lakatos 137, Youngstown knocked out Ozzie Henry 135, West Virginia in the 4th round of a 6-rounder.

Roosevelt Umbles 145, Canton, outpointed Danny Beckner, 141, Steubenville.

Early references to television described it as a "visible telephone."

Gray Toppers Play Sunday

A basketball doubleheader is scheduled for the armory Sunday afternoon with VFS playing Bird-McGinnis in the opener at 2 and the Gray Toppers Marion's girls team taking on the Skyliners at 3:30.

The Skyliners, all Negro team, was formerly known as 740 AC.

The Gray Toppers won their opener last week, beating a girls team in Mansfield.

Janowicz Picked By "M" Players

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 30—(AP) — The 1951 University of Michigan football squad today placed two players from arch-rival Michigan State on an "all opponent" first team.

The team:

Ends—Bob McColl, Stanford, and Bob Carey, Michigan State; tackles—Don Coleman, Michigan State, and Chuck Ulrich, Illinois; center—Chuck Boerio, Illinois; guards—Chuck Studley, Illinois, and Norm Manoogian, Stanford; quarterback — Gary Kerkorian, Stanford; halfbacks — Paul Giel, Minnesota, and Vic Janowicz, Ohio State; fullback — Bill Reichardt, Iowa.

Rickey Wants Rule Changed for Prep Stars

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30—(AP)—Branch Rickey, a man with a record for accomplishment in baseball, is going to the minor league annual meeting in Columbus next week with a determination to get the high school rule changed.

Rickey, engaged in the terrific job of trying to rebuild the Pittsburgh Pirates into a pennant winning ball club, says a manager should be able to sign a high school youth to a contract.

The present rule forbids a manager from even talking business with a high school student. Rickey says the law is being violated—and often.

He thinks a proposed amendment to the rule that would permit baseball's front office to have a heart-to-heart talk with a high school boy, but forbids a contract, is equally ridiculous.

Bully Beef... Canned Willy...Spam

Three brands of field rations that rate Gold Chevrons for overseas service in time of war—from 1898, through 1917-18, and the years of World War II.

In the Veterans of Foreign Wars you find former dogfaces, leathernecks and gobs who can remember times when they would have traded a warehouse of the stuff for one square meal.

That's the quiet thrill an overseas veteran enjoys when he belongs to the Veterans of Foreign Wars—the chance to reminisce and swap stories with fellows who talk his language.

Any group of overseas vets may argue loud and long about which credit won the war—the Army, Navy, Marines, Coast Guard, Air Force, or the Seabees. On one point, however, you will always find they agree . . . the V.F.W. IS A GOOD OUTFIT.

vantageous to this country, in the present circumstances of the world, to sacrifice a degree of its free hand, the risk should only be taken if an international organization is based on law and not upon the political whimsicalities of those who can use the veto.

"A rule of law and justice" is the phrase he employs. The rule of law we know in this country; it safeguards us in our own nation from the tyranny of politicians, from the rule of the majority and the pressure of the minority. As we depart from it, our own administration becomes corrupt and our people fearful. If the rule of law can truly be applied to nations, a way might be found to international peace.

Postoffice To Hire "Extras" For Yule Rush

65 to 70 Will Be Employed in Weeks Before Christmas

Postmaster Homer D. Cole said today 65 to 70 extra personnel would be employed at the Marion Postoffice to handle the seasonal rush of Christmas mail.

These extra workers will be used as clerks at the Postoffice and also as route carriers for the additional flow of mail. Mr. Cole said the spare help probably will not be needed before the week beginning Dec. 10 but would be put to work before then if the mail load here required it. He said the entire force of "extras" probably would be called around Dec. 17.

Curtailed Service

Regular city and rural mail deliveries will be curtailed on Christmas Day and no window service will be available at the Postoffice.

Efforts will be made, however, to handle all late-arriving gift parcels received at the Postoffice in time for delivery on Dec. 25. Special and perishable mail also will be delivered, the Postoffice Department announced from Washington. A limited holiday schedule for collections and dispatches of first class mail and daily newspapers will be followed.

The department said all postal employes who can be spared will be given Christmas Day off.

Card Suggestion

Postal officials suggested Christmas cards be sent as first class mail rather than second class.

Sent as first class mail, for three cents, the cards may be sealed and may contain written messages. They will be forwarded in case of an address change or will be returned to the sender if not delivered for any reason.

Sent as second class mail, at a cost of two cents, the cards must not be sealed and can contain no writing. They are handled as circular mail and will neither be forwarded nor returned in case the intended receiver cannot be found.

Meanwhile the story persists that Mr. Truman would like to return to the Senate . . . this points up the sharp difference between him and Sen. Taft who seems anxious to leave there.

And at last reports Sen. Kefauver also was willing to trade his seat for the presidency with or without the television and book rights.

And a name like Kefauver in the presidential race is not to be sneezed at although there is that temptation.

At the moment there is no indication whether Mr. Truman will announce his intentions or his next tax boost first . . . some feel that after he announces the next tax boost he won't have to announce his intentions.

Iberia FFA Members Tour To Canadian Fair

(Special to The Star)

IBERIA—The Iberia Vocational Agriculture Department, under the supervision of R. Stark Beard and Superintendent Preston Burggraf, promoted a 1,000 mile tour by motor caravan which encircled the Lake Erie region during the holidays.

A party of 40 persons, including 33 members of the FFA chapter, visited the Royal Canadian Agricultural Fair at Toronto, Canada, the Agriculture and Veterinary College at Guelph, Canada; the experimental farms of Master Feeds, Toronto; the John Bull Jersey Farms; Niagara Falls, and the city of Detroit.

First day in Canada was spent at the Royal Agriculture Winter Fair which is housed under one series of buildings covering a 27 acre area in Toronto.

A stop was made at the John Bull 2,000 acre Jersey Farms where a herd of 750 registered Jersey cattle was inspected.

An experimental farm operated by Master Feeds was visited where one of the sidelines was silver fox and mink fur raising. The next stop was made possible by Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Epperson of Iberia, who arranged an overnight stay at the Guelph Canadian Agriculture and Veterinary College.

Members of the Agriculture College Staff directed a tour over the experimental farms showing improved livestock, experimental plots and laboratories. The group watched the dissection of a horse for muscle and tissue study, caught a glimpse of a dog operation and viewed two calves that were being used as stomach specimens.

The boys had opportunity to examine specimens of diseased animals in the laboratories.

The motor caravan stopped at Chatham, Canada where they saw a Detroit hockey team defeat the local entry, 5-3. Returning through Detroit, the travelers arrived home Thursday.

Dr. and Mrs. Epperson sponsor a $50 award each year to the most outstanding FFA project at the school. The award was divided between James Nichols and James Sautters this year. The Eppersons accompanied the party and completed many of the arrangements on the trip. Other drivers on the tour were Aaron Smith, Willard Chambers, Dean Straley, Elmer Leathem and Preston Burggraf.

New Kind of Casserole Solves Meal Problem

IF, ONCE upon a morning dreary you've pondered till you're weak and weary, over ways and means to serve dishes never served before, you know how valuable recipes like this one can be. A new kind of casserole, with a new combination of vegetables, egg, and rich cream sauce, capped with a tender cheese pastry, it's so nutritious and tasty you'll be praising this recipe evermore.

CHEESE CRUSTED CASSEROLE

½ cup enriched yellow corn meal
1 cup sifted enriched flour
1 t salt
⅓ cup shortening
½ cup grated sharp American cheese
¼ to ⅓ cup water
2 T butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
1 cup cooked peas
4 hardcooked eggs, sliced
1 small can mushrooms (about 2 ounces)
1 cup diced celery
1 t Worcestershire sauce
1 t salt
¼ t paprika
¼ t Tabasco sauce

For crust, sift together corn meal, flour and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add grated cheese. Stir in water gradually until mixture will just form a ball. Let rest while making filling. For filling, melt butter and stir in flour. Add milk gradually and liquid drained from mushrooms. Cook until thickened; add rest of ingredients and stir lightly to mix. Pour into individual casseroles. Roll out pastry and cut to fit top of casseroles. Lay over filling. Flute the edges of pastry and prick surface to allow escape of steam. Bake in hot oven (425 F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

PTA UNIT MEETS

Mrs. Robert W. McCombs was in charge of the program and Mrs. Frank Roddy led devotions at a meeting of the PTA of Forest Lawn School Tuesday night. PTA pins were presented by President W. A. A movie entitled "Party Line" was shown and Darl Gatchell, principal of the school, conducted a spelldown between teachers and parents of the first, second, and third grades and parents of the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades.

Among the Red-Necked

AMONG other red-necked victims of Gen. Willoughby's vigorous criticism in Cosmopolitan Magazine of certain writers and publication are the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the State Department, the Korean military advisory group, the South Korean army, Central Intelligence Agency, all planners of the Korean strategy of containment and the now-forgotten general who represented the United States on the scene when the war began.

Gen. Willoughby also makes it clear that the resentment he is expressing against all the people who either did not understand Gen. MacArthur's position or, as he charges, went out of their way to make him look bad goes clear back to 1941. "The press exercised delicate restraint regarding the European show," he declares, "while a cataract of venom was incessantly poured on Pacific operations from 1941 to 1951."

The Cosmopolitan article may disclose as its implications become more fully understood what the sources were of some of the bitterness which finally precipitated one of the most unfortunate incidents in American military history—the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur from a post of command in which his former chief of intelligence reveals he believed he was greatly and deliberately misunderstood.

Kenneth Wherry

IN DUE time, if the Republicans in the Senate are lucky, they will find another floor leader as capable as Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska. They will need to be lucky.

The role of men who bear the brunt of the two-party system of government is rarely understood, often misrepresented. Senator Wherry, for example, was pilloried on many occasions for leading the opposition to the Truman administration. Yet, that was his job—to lead the loyal opposition. Without opposition there would be no more two-party government. The United States would become a one-party dictatorship. Issues could not be debated. There could be no differences of opinion.

Senator Wherry, respected by his fellow senators on both sides of the aisle, contributed more to freedom under the two-party system in the last few years than most of his fellow Americans who talk about freedom without understanding how it is preserved.

Wrong Line

THE mayor of Ithica, N.Y., has suggested to President Truman that his bailiwick needs a million dollars right now just as much as Iran needs one of America's open-end loans. Of course the mayor is only fooling.

His city's employes need a raise. So do most city employes. But the line for municipalities that are short of money is temporarily closed. It will not form again until the next depression, if and when.

The big thing now is relief for foreign governments. It is pointed out that they must be bailed out with U.S. credit, because otherwise they would be sunk without trace and replaced by Communist stand-ins.

This is a threat strongly reminiscent of the Washington doctrine of the thirties that thus and so had to be done without hesitation or Communists would take over. Hardly a week passes without some grizzled New Dealer telling how revolt was narrowly averted by the distribution of public funds. If taxpayers' dollars can save the world, it will be saved one of these days, no doubt about it. Provided the taxpayers hold out.

What Makes Votes?

MOST thought-provoking of all the things said in hearings on the Taft-Ferguson campaign is the broad hint dropped by Senator Taft that he may have been elected by the kind of effort which was made to defeat him.

The senator meant that the advance notice served by labor unions that they would spare neither money nor energy to retire him to private life energized his own potential supporters. He meant the kind of literature which was stuffed into rural mailboxes and thrown to the four winds set up a reaction which caused voters to sympathize with him. He meant that the speakers sent into Ohio by the Truman administration and the unions gave him the opportunity to claim he was being attacked by "carpet-baggers." And though he didn't say this, or even imply it, he meant that the effrontery of backing a candidate who had to admit in the hearings on his campaign that he did not know what the "Truman plan" was though he said in his campaign he was for it was a boneheaded error by his political opponents. They thereby affronted the judgment of their own followers, besides stirring up the enthusiasm of Senator Taft's followers.

Or as many believed during the campaign in question, Joseph T. Ferguson could have polled more votes if he never had opened his mouth or his backers had opened their purses than were made with one of the most inept and most expensive campaigns in history.

WASHINGTON

ONE out of every five persons actually in the government service who were investigated by the FBI has a background of questionable circumstances involving either disloyalty or security.

Out of 16,723 government employes investigated under the loyalty program which began on March 21, 1947, there were 3,645 who resigned rather than go through the normal procedures of inquiry which would either clear their names or places a label on their records preventing them from getting further employment in the government.

LAWRENCE

The latest data available from the U.S. Civil Service Commission show that 1,891 employes left the service for one reason or another during the course of the regular FBI investigation, leaving 14,832 cases to be handed to the loyalty boards of the various departments for "adjudication." But of these cases, 1,754 persons left the service after the FBI completed its investigation but before final "adjudication" of their cases. The total of 3,645 is about 22 percent of those investigated by the FBI after being enrolled in the government. No figures are available as to the number denied employment in the first instance after an FBI inquiry.

UNFORTUNATELY, there is no way of determining just what damage these questionable persons have done while in the government service—who they influenced and what information they took away that could be of value to persons out of sympathy with government action or policies.

The whole subject of Communist sympathies, disloyalty and collateral phases is really in its infancy. The loyalty program has been going less than five years. Undoubtedly there are innocent persons who have preferred to resign rather than go through the ordeal of loyalty hearings, and this seems to raise a question sometimes as to whether the acts complained of were "indiscreet" rather than disloyal. Time and again cases have occurred where pursuit of a radical trend of thought or a particular line of foreign policy proposals has led individuals to consort with persons they didn't know were secretly identified in some way with the Communist cause.

THERE IS NO LAW against sympathizing with Communist philosophy, but there is also no such thing as a right to work for the government. Since this is considered a "privilege" rather than a right, the rules of law do not obtain, and the government today through its loyalty boards can fire anybody about whom there is a reasonable doubt. In other words, the doubt is resolved by these boards in favor of the government rather than the individual, just as any employer can determine who he shall hire or fire without giving all his reasons.

Much of the testimony now being revealed by the Senate internal security committee shows that many Americans who claim under oath that they have never been Communists did have intimate relationships with Communists or members of their families. A denial under oath by a real Communist of membership in the party is not unusual. Most of the persons actually convicted in the courts of being Communists have previously denied it under oath either to the FBI or before grand juries.

Coping with disloyal persons who lie is one of the great frustrations suffered by all those who handle loyalty problems. If the testimony is taken in executive session so as to avoid use of names, the critics cry out that it's a "star chamber." If the hearings are public, the cry is that the evidence is "hearsay" or slander.

GRADUALLY the noose is being tightened around many of the conspirators because, as the Senate committee members have publicly stated, there are sound rules of law which permit evidence to be accepted even if it is hearsay provided the hearsay comes from enough persons to establish that a conspiracy exists. This notable exception to the rule about hearsay has been emphasized by Senator McCarran and other committee members, and there is little solace for the guilty if more than one witness can be found to corroborate a charge of conspiracy based on hearsay in the first instance. One tactic of the Communist side, of course, is to attempt to discredit the ex-Communists, but another experience of the courts is that persons who turn state's evidence have been invaluable in getting convictions.

The devious ways of those who seek to minimize the disloyalty cases or to cast doubt on congressional committee revelations are in themselves a curious study. Some day the hearings of the Senate internal security committee — the second volume of its record has just been published—will result in a report far different from the "whitewash" or superficial inquiry of Communists made by the Tydings committee last year.

The Free Hand and The Rule of Law

By George E. Sokolsky

THUS FAR, in the widespread discussion of Sen. Robert A. Taft's book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans," little has been said about his basic proposition, which is that the policy must be a restoration of a free hand.

Up to 1917, the United States was never what the internationalists have come to call isolationist. This country, from the days when Benjamin Franklin and John Jay were sent to Europe to deal with foreign powers, has had close and intimate relations with European and Asiatic countries, but the guiding principle was friendship, amity, co-operation but no entanglements. We did very well with that program up to Woodrow Wilson. Then we got entangled.

SOKOLSKY

During the period of non-entanglement our foreign policy was premised upon three basic principles:

1. The full sovereignty of the United States must and will be respected at any cost. To assert this principle we went into the war of 1812; we asserted ourselves against the Barbary pirates; we established a line of precedents throughout the world that rights enjoyed by any nationals anywhere were to be enjoyed by Americans everwhere (the open door policy).

2. The principle was established that while the form of government accepted by a people is strictly their own choice (Declaration of Independence), the two American continents were not subject to further colonization by European nations (the Monroe Doctrine) nor would new monarchies be tolerated (our attitude toward Maximilian in Mexico).

This was of the greatest importance, for it freed our boundaries from entanglements in European dynastic and trade wars.

3. The principle was asserted and established that the lines of access to the United States had to be kept open (freedom of the seas). This was particularly important for a young nation for if we had recognized that any one country controlled the seas, the United States could never have developed its vast industrial strength. It would have suffered from a condition called in Asia, semi-colonialism.

This free hand has been growing steadily less free since Woodrow Wilson moved the United States into the affairs of Europe. Now our hand is no longer free, it is shackled.

SEN. TAFT SAYS of this: "Our traditional policy of neutrality and non-interference with other nations was based on the principle that this policy was the best way to avoid disputes with other nations and to maintain the liberty of this country without war. From the days of George Washington that has been the policy of the United States. It has never been isolationism; but it has always avoided alliances and interference in foreign quarrels as a preventive against possible war, and it has always opposed any commitment by the United States, in advance, to take any military action outside of our territory. It would leave us free to interfere or not interfere according to whether we consider the case of sufficiently vital interest to the liberty of this country. It was the policy of the free hand."

TAFT'S VIEW IS that the United States can afford to depart from this principle only if an "effective international organization" is established. He does not believe that the United Nations is such, giving as his reason:

"The United Nations has failed to protect our peace, I believe, because it was organized on an unsound basis with a veto power in five nations and is based, in fact, on the joint power of such nations, effective only so long as they agree. I believe the concept can only be successful if based on a rule of law and justice between nations and willingness on the part of all nations to abide by the decisions of an impartial tribunal."

While many have criticized Sen. Taft's position on foreign affairs by picking on details of statement, I have sought for his basic philosophy, and I think this is it: that while it could be ad-

Alice in Key West Land

The sea was wet as wet could be,
The sands were dry as dry;
You could not see a cloud because
No cloud was in the sky
(Or else the blinding costume kept
All clouds far from the eye).

II

The President and buddy they
Were walking on the sand;
They talked about election year
And problems now at hand,
"If Washington and Key West merge,"
They said, "it would be grand."

III

"If seven maids with seven mops
Swept things for half a year,
Do you suppose," then Harry asked,
"The probes would disappear?"
"I doubt it," his companion said
And shed a bitter tear.

IV

"Oh, friend, please come and walk with me,"
Then Harry did beseech,
"A pleasant walk, a pleasant talk
Along the pristine beach
Some great decision you might help
A President to reach."

V

"The time has come," the chief declared
"To talk of many things,
Of loans, of tanks, the RFC,
Of generals and slings
And soldiers who don't fade away,
And how the public swings.

VI

"Of whether they will be replaced
By foreign policy,
And blame for things in La Korea
On Acheson and me,
And what it like should say the word
From far across the sea"

VII

"Should I toss in my hat again
And gallop in hell-bent"
Would it be smart to try to make
My headaches permanent"
The wife thinks days in good old 'Mo'
Are far much better spent.

VIII

"Oh, should I tilt with Gallup polls
And make 'em bite the dust;
I had such fun four years ago
I rather think I must."
"The tide is in," his buddy said,
"Let's have a nice swim 'first'!"

IX

Ten correspondents hurried up,
By zeal and news-sense stirr'd;
They quickly wrote in great detail
Exactly what occurr'd . . .
(And this was odd, because you see,
They hadn't heard a word.)

X

Then twenty barracuda came
Around the swimming raft;
"Our swim is off," then Harry said,
"There's danger fore and aft;
One day it's barracuda and
Another day it's TAFT!"

Winter Scene

By TRUMAN TWILL

CONTRARY to calendar snowscapes and scenes on Christmas cards, the typical winter landscape in this climate is not a study in white, with splashes of red and green for contrast. It is a monochrome in bluish gray.

The reason winter never is depicted as it really looks to those who must endure it is because the assignment is too tough for those who might be interested enough to try. It is wholly beyond the scope of photography, because there is nothing to photograph.

Winter—true winter—is characterized by absence of color and contrast. It is the blending of indistinct forms in the middle distance into the purplish gloom of an absorbent background which threatens to lose itself in a sky of the same color.

It is dirty gray fields, dirty gray lawns, with buildings, trees, shrubbery and human figures to match. It is trailing plumes of smoke, wisps of bedraggled paper and streaked and faded circus posters flapping on the sides of unpainted buildings.

It is grimy ribbons of roads uncoiled over gray country sides and blackish cities, with traffic beetles scurrying back and forth on their way to and from refuge.

Far from being cheerful lights twinkling in crystal windows, winter is a pale bear struggling to penetrate a befogged pane of unclean grass.

It is a brown bird huddled on a black branch against a leaden sky. It is a limping dog cowering in an icy wind, holding his tail wretchedly between his legs and nosing the lid off a garbage pail.

Winter is the pelting of sleet on the roof of the house and crackling warnings of potential disaster over the radio. It is a puddle of ditch water with a scum of ice on it.

It is cold gray dawns which break reluctantly long after decent people are up and stirring—and then only to reveal an equally cold gray sky with smudges of low-flying clouds propelled by wintry winds.

To be sure, there also is snow in winter, but snow is the exception, not the rule. Even when there is snow it quickly blends itself into the blue-grayness of winter, or turns itself perversely into soiled slush and hides itself in the inky blackness of the nearest sewer.

With no design of despair whatever, the truth about winter may as well be faced. The fellow who moans and groans over a white Christmas every year about this time means it when he says he's dreaming, because most years there is not a patch of white to be seen anywhere. Even the whiskers on Santa Claus are part of the gray monochrome which is the ughest, yet the most beautiful, thing about the bad old wintertime in or about 40 degrees of latitude U.S.A.

Death in November

By JOSEPH W. BUGHMANIC

MANY readers might be surprised to learn that the term "Indian summer," which came into used about 1770, originated during the relentless warfare between the Ohio Indians and pioneers of western Pennsylvania. What may surprise them even more is that the Indians whose warring played the most pronounced part in originating the phrase, now a literary convention of three continents, were the Indians who lived in what is now Stark County. They lived at Tuscarawas Town, near what is now Bolivar.

The origin of the term, as given in the memoirs of Rev Joseph Doddridge who lived and preached in Pittsburgh after the Revolutionary War, goes something like this:

The Indians and white settlers of western Pennsylvania, owing to the pacific policy of the Quakers, lived in peace to about 1775. About this time, the Indians, falling for the propaganda of the French against the English, began to hate the settlers and to plot their destruction.

So intense was this hatred that it caused the Indians to join the French—an alliance which helped the latter to defeat General Braddock in 1755. Later, their hatred, spear-headed by the famous chieftain, Pontiac, resulted in the French and Indian War. Finally, this hatred caused a state of warfare that lasted with short intermission for 50 years until Tecumseh's defeat in 1813.

By 1770, the hate of the Indians was being cordially returned by the whites. The Scotch-Irish around Pittsburgh, a pugnacious race with whom fighting was not always a means to an end, but often an end in itself, shot all Indians on sight. The only good Indian, went their proverb, was a dead Indian. As a result, the Indians left western Pennsylvania, seeking safety in the fastnesses of the Ohio forests.

From their villages on the Tuscarawas and Muskingum rivers—from Old Tuscarawas Town and Coshocton—they made their raids from early spring until the fall of snow made traveling impossible. Being a bush-fighter, the Indian killed and scalped whole families while these were engaged in household tasks. To offset this, the settlers built forts into which they moved their families early in the spring. From these forts the men, in armed parties, went out to cultivate their farms.

"With the coming of the first snow," says Fisher in his book, "The Making of Pennsylvania," "each family returned to its home. But often in November, after winter had apparently set in (aforementioned 'squaw winter'), there came those mild smoky days we all know so well. This was fresh alarm. Some families went back to the fort; and only the boldest remained. Hence the expression Indian Summer, a phrase which is now of pleasant association; but which in its origin would make the most light-hearted frontiersman grave."

The term "Indian Summer," it may be noted, spread to New England by 1788; to New York by 1799, to Canada by 1821; and to England by 1830. Horace Walpole however used the term in a letter in 1778.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

The story of early days in Marion County is the same as that of any other pioneer settlement. Many of the early residents were tough and uncultured and might ruled. Farsighted storekeepers always kept a bucket of whiskey near the counter and customers were welcome to help themselves "without money and without price." As a consequence fights often resulted.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Sunday, Nov. 30, 1941.

The Marion Kiwanis Club's "Go To Church" campaign was launched and resulted in general increased attendance throughout the city. The campaign was to extend through Jan. 11, with the church showing the largest per cent of increase each week to be awarded a large banner, "Banner Church of the Week."

William H. Newell, 81, of Marengo, retired farmer, died in the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. E. Bosh of 263 Lafayette St.

Mrs. A. W. Bacon of 136 Homer St. returned from a visit with relatives in Detroit, South Bend, Ind., and Chicago.

Rev. Robert Phillips and daughter of Marion and Mrs. Margaret Locke of Wallstop were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Cleveland of Agosta.

TWENTY YEARS AGO. It was Monday, Nov. 30, 1931.

Vice President Curtis announced he would not run for the Senate next year, and would accept renomination as vice president if offered him.

A prospect for direct negotiations between China and Japan brought hopes for a Manchurian pact to Tokyo.

Isaac Newton Rodman, 85, Civil War veteran, died in his home at 786 Filmore St.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Main of 137 Homer St., left with Mrs. Main's sister, Mrs. Lucy Johnson of Prospect, to spend the winter in Indianola, Fla.

Forty-five candidates for berths on the 1931-32 edition of the Harding High basketball team turned out as Coach D. N. Bohyer summoned the Presidents to their first lesson in basket tossing. Only five were letter men.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

fless Conway's eyes widened as I gave her my warning about going back to her apartment.

"What do you mean?" she asked. "Do you think there is danger there?"

"If your deductions about this man are correct," I said, "and I think they are, you undoubtedly will be in danger when he finds you, especially if your intuition is correct and he really is evil. You must be sure to stress that point with my father, as he is a believer in hunches, especially when they come to women with clever brains and keen imagination.

"I am sure my father will share this view," I said, "so you may as well lay your plans to leave your apartment for a time. Tell me, how well do you know your neighbors?"

"I don't know them at all," she said. That is one of our most rigid rules. And as I have been there only since Spring, I hardly ever see the superintendent of the building. I pay my rent by mailing a check to the real estate firm who rented me the apartment. I am almost anonymous."

"That is all to the good," I told her. "Now, for the next question. Are there any personal possessions in that apartment which you need, or wish?"

"Not a single thing," she said. "I have very few things I prize, and I always carry them with me on a visit such as this, or place them in a hotel safety deposit box when I am on an assignment."

"What about clothes?" I asked next.

"Nothing that I could not leave there for the next year," she told me. "You see, we always must be prepared to 'fly the coop' at a second's notice.'

I nodded assent. "Then you need not go back there for weeks, or months," I said.

"Not for years, if I do not wish,' she said. 'I can buy everything I need fresh, if I do not go back. My suitcases and dressing case are here."

"Then,' I said, "I shall leave the rest of this to my father. I would not presume to advise you. And now, I'm going to prescribe for you. Take off your things again, climb into bed, and take a nap until my father gets here. And don't worry a single bit more. You are safe from now on. I would not tell you so unless I believed it."

"I am sure of that," she told me with her eyes dewy. "And you don't know how you have heartened me. I shall obey you in everything."

"Au revoir, then," I said, refraining from any gesture of tenderness, for she did not need it now. Then I went swiftly into the living room and down to the unlisted telephone in Dicky's room, unheeding the questioning glances of the Underwoods and Mildred Grey, who, of course, did not utter a single question.

I reached my father almost immediately, and his voice was sharp and questioning.

"What has happened?" he asked.

"Nothing concerning the present problem," I told him, "but Boss has seen a ghost from the past, and needs your advice. I do not think she should go back to her apartment. Can you come up pretty soon?"

"I shall leave within ten minutes," he said. "Don't let her worry, but tell her to be ready to tell me the whole story withholding no detail."
